End of an era

Fields proud of his track record on the environment, taxes and, in regards to support of a riverboat, he has no regrets

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

For 20 years, Jim Fields has served Antioch Township as supervisor. Upon his retirement, the Antioch native said he feels fortunate to have been able to serve the residents for so long.

"I enjoyed coming to work every day. I got to do something I wanted and I was glad to do it," Fields said.

Fields will retire when he hands the gavel to Tim Osmond, May 1. In his tenure as supervisor and county board member, he survived 11 elections.

Fields was working as a car salesman when he was first asked to run for supervisor.

"Red Murrie, the supervisor was going to retire and asked me if I wanted to run," Fields recalled.

Fields grew up on a farm along east Rte.

173 and had been active in the community for many years before running for office. He used his expertise as a medic in the Air Force to volunteer for the Antioch Rescue Squad and was a member of the squad for 25 years. He served as chief for 12 years.

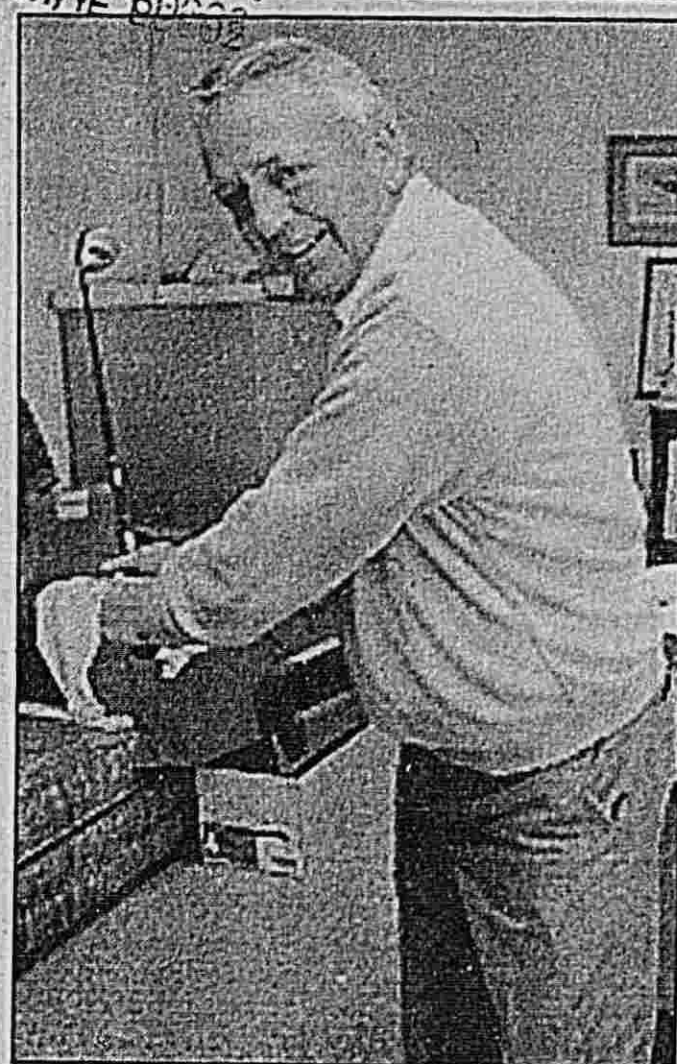

Osmond also is chief of the rescue squad, as was Murrie, making it the third consecutive time a rescue squad chief became township supervisor.

Fields built up quite a track record during his time as supervisor and county board member. He's especially proud of some of his environmental accomplishments. Although criticized by environmentalists in his later years, in his first campaign he said he was in favor of controlled growth and believed 'people should have a say so in the township.'

"I worked very hard with the state so Red Deer Lake would be protected and the state would preserve it," Fields said of a state nature preserve in northeast Antioch Township.

He also garnered $800,000 in drainage projects which includes work in many areas in the western part of the township.

Fields worked to successfully block a landfill expansion in Antioch Township, supported a food pantry, and worked with the village for the senior center.

"I have never raised the tax rate," Fields noted.

Fields said he viewed programs from the long term to decide if he would support them.

"I always looked ahead to see if we would have the funding for it," he said.

One political fight he did not win was getting a riverboat in Antioch Township, which township voters rejected in 1993.

Musicians coming together to aid Merle

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor in Chief

Several members of the Lake County Musicians Union are warming up for a benefit for one of their own— Frankie Merle—and it's a surprise.

Union members along with Antioch resident Ken Mazzuca and members of the Antioch Moose Lodge are putting the final touches on a benefit for Merle to be held at the lodge, April 20 from noon to 5 p.m.

Merle, 72, is now confined to a wheelchair due to crippling arthritis and inoperable hip replacement surgery, his days of belting out a tune on his trombone or crooning his favorite Frank Sinatra songs are but a distant and fond memory.

Merle has been a well-known fixture on the Chicago area music scene since the early 1960s specializing in big band sounds, Dixieland and swing.

The event begins at noon and will include several presentations in honor of Merle. The presentations are set to begin at 5 p.m.

'Frank was always one of the first people to help anyone who needed anything.'

—Ken Mazzuca

"We are going to present Frank with a special electric scooter and excel stairway lift system which will allow Frank the capability of getting out when weather permits," Mazzuca said. "When I realized the problems Frankie had and that they couldn't operate any more, I wanted to get his friends together and do something that would help him out."

Mazzuca has been working on the benefit for the past two months along with William Aredia, governor of the Antioch Moose Lodge; Fred Chapman, administrator of the lodge; John Bronder, who is printing tickets and posters publicizing the event; and Roy Zeman, kitchen chair for the Moose lodge.

"I think Frank is a real showman," Mazzuca said. "Everytime he was on stage, he put in a 100 percent effort. He lived for that."

Mazzuca said Merle's many operations have tapped him and his wife, Delores financially.

Arbor Day Foundation Sets Goal to Plant 10 Million Trees During 125th Anniversary

► Ten Free Flowering Trees

Ten free flowering trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation.

The ten trees are two White Flowering Dogwoods, two Flowering Crabapples, two Golden Rain trees, two Washington Hawthorns, and two American Redbuds.

"This year is the 125th Anniversary of Arbor Day, and the free flowering trees are part of The National Arbor Day Foundation's Trees for America campaign to plant 10 million trees in 1997," John Rosenow, the Foundation's president, said.

"These compact trees were selected for planting in large or small spaces," Rosenow said. "They will give your home the beauty of lovely pink, white, and yellow flowers — and also provide winter berries and nesting sites for songbirds."

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting in your area, February through May in the spring, or October through mid-December in the fall, along with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

Members also receive a subscription to the Foundation's bimonthly publication, Arbor Day, and The Tree Book with information about tree planting and care.

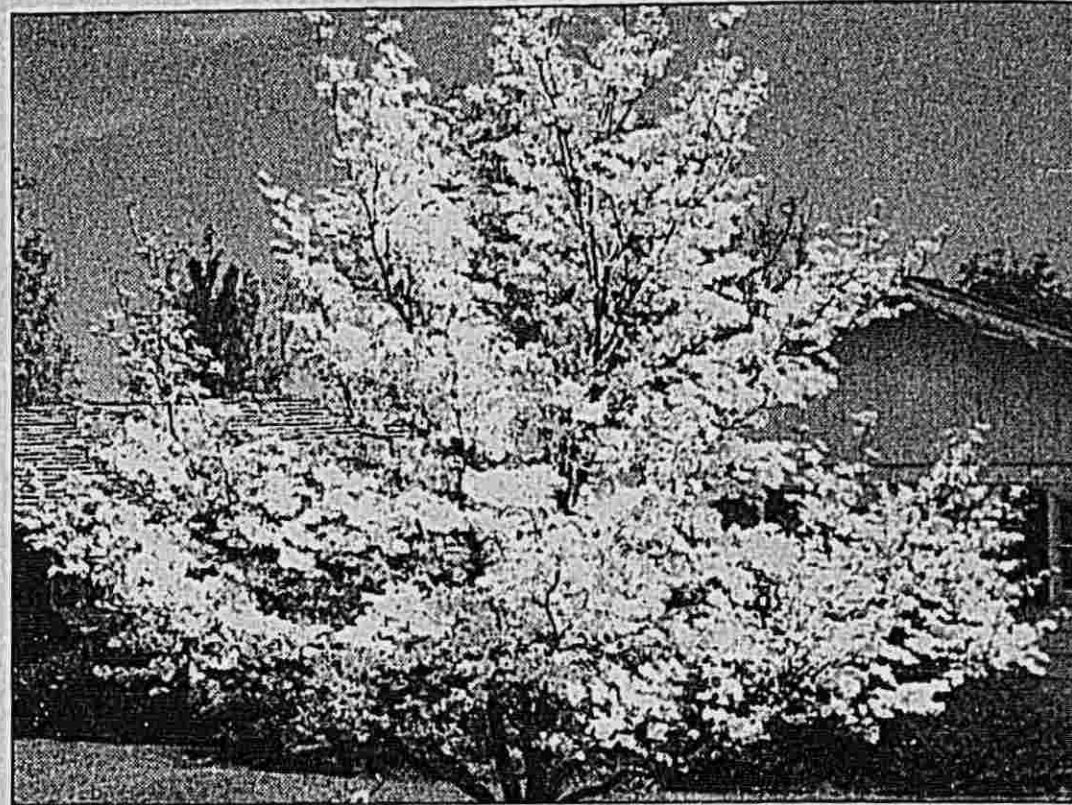

"Planting trees is something that each of us can do to leave our mark on the earth," Rosenow said. "Tree planting is a positive act that will improve our neighborhoods and communities, and make life better for future generations."

America Needs More Trees

The United States has lost a third of its forest cover during the last 200 years.

Our towns and cities should have twice as many street trees as we have today.

We need more trees around our homes and throughout our communities. We need more trees to protect our farm fields and our rivers and streams. To provide wood for our homes and the thousands of products we use every day.

The flowers of the White Flowering Dogwood (Cornus florida) are large and showy in the spring. Dogwoods' green leaves turn purple in the fall. Their glossy red fruits provide food for songbirds during the fall and winter.

Trees Help Conserve Energy

Trees cool our homes and entire cities in the summer, and slow cold winter winds. Shade trees and windbreaks can cut home utility bills 15-35%.

Trees clean the air we breathe. They provide life-giving oxygen while they remove particulates from the air and reduce atmospheric carbon dioxide.

Trees fight erosion, and they provide food, shelter, and nesting sites for songbirds.

You can help make the future better and more secure by planting trees. Join today, and plant your Trees for America!

Volunteers to distribute blue bows for child abuse awareness

Central Baptist Children's home and the Illinois Center for Youth Advocacy will be distributing blue bows at area businesses on Saturday, April 26. The blue bow is the symbol of child abuse prevention awareness and April is child abuse prevention month.

Volunteers will be handing out blue bows and collecting donations for these organizations at the following businesses; Omni, Wal-Mart, First State Banks in Round Lake, State Bank of the Lakes in Antioch and Lindenhurst, Eagle and Ace Hardware and the 1st National Bank of Antioch. ## True Value owner gives lawn tips

Staff Reporter

Spring has arrived and with it comes the need to care for your lawn.

Stan Livermore, Lindenhurst and Antioch True Value store owner, provided tips to Antioch Rotary Club members on how to make lawns look and stay beautiful.

Livermore stressed fertilizer is very important. In picking fertilizer there are three things to look for, nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash.

"The nitrogen helps retain the moisture which in turn creates a more healthy, green look.

However, he cautioned people against using cheaper products that only provide a quick fix.

"The good brands offer a time release formula and it won't clump up," Livermore.

He added phosphoric acid aids the root system and potash assists soil and roots.

He stressed fertilizers which attach to garden hoses only a last a few days and don't have much long term effect.

For the environmentally conscious, there are several organic fertilizers available. While more costly, they do provide a more balanced blend of nutrients and are biogradable.

On seeding, he recommended products which include the seed, fertilizer in one. "All you have to do is water," Livermore said.

He cautioned those who buy seed to gear it for type of light they have. Rye grasses tend to be more durable and pliable, bluegrasses work better in unshaded areas, while fescue is for heavy wooded or shaded areas.

Now, more than ever, the importance of mulch has been pronounced.

"Many places in Illinois won't accept mulch in landfills," Livermore said.

He said a mulching lawnmower should cut about 2/3 the blade of grass. He noted mulch is good for grass because it degrades and restores nitrogen to the soil.

On the down side, if the discharge becomes too thick, it becomes thatch, which holds water and doesn't degrade, and takes moisture from the grass.

He recommended using a special blade which helps cut the grass even finer. However, he cautioned, thatch still has to be raked.

Free tree give-away on Arbor Day

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Antioch Park Department and community volunteers are doing their part to increase the number of trees in the village.

They are asking people to adopt-a-tree and care for it. There are 900 trees waiting for a home. All that is required is a letter to the parks department requesting a tree.

"They will be given to anyone who volunteers to properly plant and take care of them," said Bud Newton, volunteer.

The program is part of the village's celebration of Arbor Day, April 26.

The trees are Austrian Pines and range from 10-16 inches tall.

The trees will be made available at Williams Park from 9 a.m.-noon Arbor Day.

People can take as many as five trees if they wish.

In addition, 20 trees will be planted at Williams Park.

Assisting with the tree planting are members of the National Junior Honor Society from Antioch Upper Grade School.

The volunteer committee receives some financial support from Antioch Lions and Rotary

Letters should be addressed to PO Box 288, Antioch, IL. 60002.

For more information call Bud Newton 395-4749.

Canvass of vote reveals strength of candidates

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Only 158 separated the Township Trustee Tim Osmond from Activist Carole Jonites and a look at the precincts reveals how close the race really was.

Jonites support was strongest where she lived in the west side of the township outside Village of Antioch. In precincts 1-3, which vote at Antioch Upper Grade School, is where she garnered most of her support.

Precinct 2 voted 203 for her compared to 73 for Osmond. Precinct 1 the vote was 107 to 66 for Osmond while precinct 3 supported gave her 12 more votes than Osmond.

Osmond had more even support throughout the township. He won precincts 4,5,6,8, 9,10, 11, 12, 13, and 14.

He defeated Jonites by more than 40 votes in precincts 4 and 5 which were village precincts, precinct 11, Loon Lakes residents and precinct 13, another village precinct.

Oddly, both candidates won a precinct which vote at Lotus School. Osmond took precinct 6 by 50 votes while Jonites took precinct 7 by 34 votes.

The closest precincts were 11 with Osmond winning by 12 votes, Precinct 15 with Jonites taking by 10 votes and Precinct 9 which Osmond won by eight votes.

There were a total of 2,970 ballots cast for the supervisor post out of 11,594 registered voters. Only 26 percent of the voters cast ballots for supervisor.

Emmons may not rehire some teachers

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Emmons School District Board had to approve an unpleasant task as it let four first-year teachers know they might not be hired back for next year.

The move has nothing to do with performance, according to Superintendent Matt Tabar. It has to do with economics.

"It's really protection for the district," Tabar said. "We don't know what our needs will be yet."

According to state law, school districts must inform teachers if they may not be hired back the following year. The notice is called a Reduction in Force.

The board is likely to keep all the teachers, provided enrollment stays at about the same level.

This is a practice the district has been forced to make for the last few years.

"It is usually done on a very reluctant basis," Tabar said.

Tabar added the administration is pleased with the performance of the first-year teachers.

The board will likely know more about staffing in the summer when funding and enrollment are more apparent.

Investors plan auction site for Route 83

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Should the village give a property tax abatement to a group seeking an auction site was the hot topic for Lake Villa trustees.

A group of Antioch investors is interested in opening a retail store selling Amish furniture and also holding mass auctions on an 11-acre piece at the intersection of Townline Road and Route 83.

"I do not want to put tax money out there if this is not going to work," Frayer said. "I have seen some promising things and then we lose the tax. Once it's gone, you can't get it back."

"I support this because it will give the village some sales tax revenue to offset property taxes," said Trustee David Dykstra. "Sometimes you have to spend money to make money."

The owners presented their case for the viability of these auctions.

"We have been very successful," said Gerri Sorensen, owner. She said her group has put on auctions throughout the nation.

The items sold include furniture, used cars and appliances.

"We don't sell junk. We don't want somebody emptying their house and selling junk," she said of the quality of merchandise.

The group is seeking to hold auctions during the weekends and having a storage facility. Another owner is interested in opening an Amish Furniture retail store.

The furniture store owner also owns a horse he would like to keep on the property.

The issue for trustees is determining what type of zoning this mixed operation would fall under and finding out how much of a tax abatement might be allowed.

The abatement might not be necessary if the Illinois Department of Transportation officials don't deem a traffic signal at the Townline and Route 83 intersection necessary.

The group will have to go to the zoning board to work out the zoning issues for the site.

Merle

"Frank was always one of the first people to help anyone who needed anything," Mazzuca said. "He was always playing for benefits for other people and was always the one instrumental in getting other musicians to play for him."

Merle and his band members along with many other local musicians, played at many jam sessions on Sundays at the Old North Shore Resort in Antioch and at Al & Olgas, known to many as "Nuttys" just west of the tracks in Lake Villa.

Merle also played on the Dutch Winslow recordings of "Back in Your Own Backyard" and "My Wife the Dancer."

Merle's music touched many throughout Lake County and the surrounding area and several groups have volunteered their time to perform at the April 20th benefit.

Among the performers are: The New Peptones, Brass Ball Bangers, Just Friends, Phase II, Peter Guerin as well as Larry Leafblad and the Scotch Lads.

Several area businesses have donated prizes for the event including: Upland Bay Hunt Club in Richmond, Armanetti's Liquors in Antioch and Bernie's Maverick in Antioch.

Tickets are on sale now for $10 and will be available at the door. For more information call, 395-0780; 395-1392 or 746-8443.

Corrections

Last week Lakeland Newspapers reported Antioch Township Board gave answers to public resolutions from the 1996 Town Meeting at the 1997 Town Meeting. The answers were actually provided in June of 1996 and only added to the record in 1997. Lakeland Newspapers regrets the error.

Last week it was reported Alan Caswell was arrested for driving with a suspended license. It was actually Alan Caswell Jr. who was arrested and gave an incorrect address to police. Caswell Jr. has a Waukegan address.

Fields

to the township. It would have given money to the schools and extended sewer service. If I had to do it over I again, I probably would," Fields said of his support for the riverboat.

Fields served as a county board member for 14 years. He was chairman during the landmark Heartland case in the early 1980s which would have brought 15,000 dwellings to 2,100 acres in central Lake County. The county refused to provide sewer service for the development, believing it was too dense, and the developers were planning to sue the county for millions.

"I talked with the administrator and he told me nobody was talking. I said 'How can we get anything done if nobody is talking.' I arranged a meeting at a Chicago bank and we eventually had a negotiated agreement," Fields noted.

Other issues he supported included building a new jail in Waukegan, funding for "A Safe Place," a safe house for battered women and children, and he successfully opposed a county gas tax.

"I always was in support of A Safe Place and it was a big fight," Fields said.

He was defeated by Judy Martini for the County Board seat in 1994.

He added his decision to not run for supervisor was a difficult one.

"I'm 67 years old and I think it was time. I talked to my wife and we felt we needed some time for us, so it was time to get out," Fields said.

Fields and wife, Gail, have five children — Jody, Linda, Jack, Patty and Michael. They have numerous grandchildren.

Of his future involvement in politics, Fields said he is still a member of the Republican Party and will help out people where he can.

His retirement plans include doing more fishing and playing golf.

"I will probably get a part-time job somewhere," Fields said.

Fields said he leaves the post with no regrets.

"I have had many disagreements with board members, but when the meeting is over we are friends. I leave without any enemies," he said.

Fields closed by thanking all the people who have supported him throughout the years.

"I've always enjoyed working for the residents. I am very fortunate," he said.

Other views . . .

Editor's note: Lakeland Newspapers asked a variety of well-known Antioch residents their views on public servant Jim Fields. Although some noted political opponents of Fields, were also asked their view, they refused comment. Following are some opinions on Fields.

"Anyone who is willing to get up at 3 a.m. and help someone on a rescue call speaks for his concern for people," Tim Osmond supervisor-elect and Antioch Rescue Squad chief. "He's an emotional guy. He devoted almost his whole life to helping others . . . He's provided services to the people as it was economically feasible."

"It's been a pleasure working with Jim over the years. I wish him the best on an enjoyable retirement," said Marilyn Shineflug, Antioch mayor.

"He's friendly and always willing to help others," said Kathleen Smith, township clerk elect who worked with Fields for 12 years as a township employee. "He was very easy to get along with."

"He was always willing to help in the community," said Ted Axton, president of the First National Bank. "He was always willing to share his opinion."

Street department begins spring cleaning

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Antioch public works employees will be doing something most of us do — spring cleaning.

Instead of scraping, scrubbing around the house, the cleaning entails getting the streets and parks looking better.

The major project is to gravel and grade Bowles and White roads.

For starters, they plan to sweep all streets from curb to curb.

Other street work includes pot hole patching with cold mix. Permanent patches will be made when asphalt plants open.

They also will be picking up garbage and debris on shoulders of streets. They will replace mail boxes from winter snow removal.

Public works employees also will be working the parks to get them ready for the spring and summer seasons.

They will clean all parks and install basketball, tennis and volleyball nets and power rake and fertilize baseball infields.

The bushes and trees in all parks will be trimmed.

Finally the Williams Park Pool will be pumped and cleaned thoroughly before it is refilled.

No grants likely for sewers

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

While low interest loans could be available for sewers in Antioch Township, the likelihood of state grants is almost nil, according to state officials.

Roger Vollbracht, project manager for Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA), noted there are no more grant programs available through the IEPA.

"We don't have a grant program anymore," Vollbracht said.

He noted there are only a few projects which qualify for state grants. Those must come through the state legislature and usually are deemed necessary because of a great need, such as flooding.

"Grant wise we see about one or two projects a year," Vollbracht said.

He said there are only a few remaining grants, going to areas which have previous state grants.

Proponents of adding sewer in many of the unincorporated Antioch Township areas are looking to see if grants could be available to cut the cost for to consumers.

United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA) has pursued this issue and has created a sewer committee. The committee is currently working on forming a mission statement outlining its goals and objectives.

The membership had voted to consider pursuing a petition drive asking the County Board to provide sewer service. However, there has been no drive, and the committee is only at the information gathering stage at this time.

Vollbracht said only a few other grants are available through the Department of Commerce. Approximately $380,000 was allocated last year.

Many communities have applied for many years and very few have been successful,"

Vollbracht said.

The cost of installing sewers in Antioch Township would cost in the millions.

A sewer study, authorized by the Lake County Board, which included most of unincorporated Antioch Township, was completed this year with two different cost estimates, depending on where the sewer lines are run.

If the lines ran under Grass Lake Road, the cost is estimated at $11,255. If they ran along routes 173 and 59, it is estimated at $14,255 per resident and only if 5,200 residents hook on to sewer.

Vollbracht said most of the IEPA funds come in the form of low interest loans. He said the state has a revolving loan fund which does include money for new sewer lines.

That money comes in the form of loans, sometimes as low as 2.89 percent interest, which can be paid over a long time period.

ComEd to bury lines in Old Mill Creek

ELIZABETH EAKEN

Staff Reporter

When the utility poles went up on Hunt Club Road brows became furrowed in Old Mill Creek. The village has an ordinance against above ground utilities in its comprehensive plan.

The poles were put up to run power to the county sewer treatment plant currently under construction in the village, along Hunt Club Road. The road is under the county's jurisdiction and it has a right of way but is still required to comply with village's plan.

Mayor Paul Koppen and Building Commissioner Wolf Berthold spoke with officials from Lake County and ComEd to rectify the problem. After Koppen provided estimates for burying the lines to prove the cost was much lower than the $80,000 ComEd was predicting, the utility company agreed to bury the lines.

The village is now looking into ComEd's installation of new utility poles south of Sand Lake Road. According to Howard Simpson, retired manager of Tempel Farms the poles existed previously, but under the villages plan drafted in the 1980s, if any utilities are upgraded they need to be put underground.

Jonites again elected leader of UHAUA

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA) selected its officers for 1997.

The president again will be Carole Jonites, who narrowly lost in a bid for township supervisor. There were no other candidates who wanted the post.

"It's hard to get people to devote that much time," Jonites said of interest in the elected positions.

Jonites says she will continue to do her best to inform residents.

"We will try to do a better job of informing residents when the meetings are," she said.

The next meeting is planned for May 20, 7:30 p.m. at St. Stephen Church at the corner of Hillside Drive and Route 59.

Phil Burgdorf will remain treasurer. Chris Peters will take over for Mary Foley as secretary.

The focus of UHAUA is still the providing and acquiring information regarding the possibility of sewers in most of the unincorporated areas.

Jonites said she will work with the already established sewer committee to provide a statement about this issue.

It was the prodding of UHAUA officials which convinced county officials to provide a feasibility study for sewers earlier this year.

The group usually meets once a month and on the third Tuesday night.

ACHS aims for Disney World

Antioch Community High School Marching Sequoits hopes to represent the school in a performance in Walt Disney World's Spectro Magic Parade the week of June 14 to 20.

This past year, at the request of the ACHS administration and through the efforts of band director, John Olisar, the ACHS Marching Sequoits increased in size from 64 members to 114 members to become competitive for a school of our size. We had a 90 percent participation in band camp and through much hard work, the band completed its fall competition season by finishing in 1st place in their division at Franklin Park.

Most bands from schools of our size travel to perform in parades at festivals or parks such as Walt Disney World to enhance the performance level of their bands. At the end of this year's competitive season, Olisar believed the band had achieved the quality to take to a performance such as this. He contacted an agent who arranged performance trips for bands and submitted a video tape to Walt Disney World. When a tape is submitted, the band is either rejected (and given advice as to how to bring the band or audition submittal up to acceptance levels), or placed in a bronze, silver, or gold level, and placed into a performance spot. The band was thrilled to be notified that they were placed in the "gold" category and also in the premier parade, the Magic Kingdom's evening Spectro Magic parade (formerly the Electrical Light parade). Everyone who has an understanding of the process has been very impressed by this achievement. It is an especially great honor because this year Walt Disney World is celebrating its 25th Anniversary.

Now the band needs to find a way to Disney World. The cost per each student for the week long trip is $450 plus some meals and spending money. The trip includes a special educational workshop. Some parents can afford to pay their child's way with the help of the fundraisers that AMPS is providing, but there are quite a few band members who need more help and we need to find a way for all the band members to participate in this trip or the band cannot go. The band has been seeking donations to help the band make their dream come true and to proudly represent Antioch Community High School in the Walt Disney World premier parade. The band members would truly appreciate any financial support anyone could give them. Donations should be made payable to: ACHS Music Parents, c/o Antioch Community High School, 1133 Main St., Antioch, IL 60002.

An AMPS representative would be happy to answer any questions you may have. Call Barb Johnson at 395-1421 VM ext. 808 or Olisar at ACHS 395-1421 ext. 294, VM ext 920 for further information.

Attempted murder added in downtown beating charges

ELIZABETH EAKEN
Staff Reporter

Otis Bennett is well on his way to recovery but the three men charged in the brutal beating of the Grayslake man are still languishing in the county jail.

One of these men, Blair Halton, has received the additional charge of one count of attempted murder in connection with the beating following an appearance before the grand jury April 9. He also has been charged with aggravated battery in an incident with a fellow inmate which occurred since he had been in custody at the jail.

The three men charged in Bennett's beating include Halton, 18, Cullen J. Havnen 26, and James McNeely 31. All three were charged with one count of armed violence and three counts of aggravated battery. Their trial is set for June 2 and a pre-trial is scheduled for May 22.

The three are accused in the Feb. 25 attack of Bennett in a vacant apartment on the upper story of the building where he and McNeely both resided at 250 Center Street. The other two alleged attackers had no known address. Bennett was beaten with a pipe, kicked and punched in the attack.

Even though he was seriously harmed suffering a fractured skull, broken jaw and ribs, and several teeth were knocked out, Bennett miraculously survived and recuperated within a couple of weeks enough to return to his job as a cook at Bake's restaurant and bar in Wildwood.

Following the incident, Grayslake. Administrative Sergeant Matt McCutcheon said Bennett and the three offenders were drinking in the vacant room, when there was some sort of disagreement and an argument erupted.

"Words were exchanged between Blair and the victim and then all three alternated the victim and beat him very violently with a pipe," McCutcheon explained.

McCutcheon said all three have felony arrest records for incidents which occurred in Grayslake and elsewhere. Halton has had several prior arrests for violent behavior, according to McCutcheon. Halton and Havnen both met in the county jail.

Grisly discovery is isolated incident

Police seek killer of Waukegan woman dumped in Newport Township

ELIZABETH EAKEN
Staff Reporter

A gruesome discovery along Dilley's Road, April 9, was very upsetting to the couple that happened along the body of 31-year-old Kim Garland, as they were taking a morning walk only a few days after returning from vacation.

Garland was discovered around 9:30 a.m., wrapped in plastic on the side of the road. According to a resident of the neighborhood, the police talked with all the neighbors, but no one appeared to have seen or heard anything. The actual body location was approximately a city block away from three homes in the area, about one-tenth of a mile south of Kelly Road.

The resident didn't want to be identified because of the nature of the situation, but said when the couple first happened upon the garbage bag they assumed it was either illegally dumped garbage or a bag had fallen off a truck, since it was also garbage day for the neighborhood. After the man kicked the bag and it didn't budge, he ripped it open a little thinking it was an animal. Unfortunately that wasn't the case and police were notified.

Most of the neighbors believe this was a one time isolated incident, according to the source. They have an active neighborhood watch and all know each other, so they are able to discern if an outsider is driving through the neighborhood. Their major concern lies more with the presence of an adult video store and a strip joint at the intersection of Routes 173 and 41. They believe this brings unsavory people into the rural area.

Bob Neal, county board representative for the area, said they've tried unsuccessfully to get rid of the businesses for years. He said it's being handled through the states attorney's office and involves a great deal of legal issues.

Garland was a resident of Waukegan and according to Lake County Coroner Barbara Richardson, died by strangulation. She was last placed alive in the area of 10th Street on the border of Waukegan and North Chicago between 8 and 11 p.m. on Tuesday, April 8. She had been arrested for prostitution in the past.

The sheriff's department is currently conducting its investigation into Garland's death. Anyone with information on the victim should contact the Sheriff's office at the 24-hour dispatch 549-5200 or the Criminal Investigation Division at 360-5850. To remain anonymous or to be eligible for a cash reward with information, contact CrimeStoppers at 662-2222.

Court rules 'vicious' dog put to sleep

ELIZABETH EAKEN
Staff Reporter

Neighbors residing in the 200 block of Hojem are resting easier now that a judge has ruled in their favor regarding a neighborhood dog which will now be put to sleep. Many residents packed the room at the April 7 court hearing after they were subpoenaed by Assistant States Attorney Christine Bedard.

The dog was reportedly involved in several incidents where it left Haser's property, either chasing or biting someone. The case was prolonged for several months with the defendant granted continuances. In the meantime the dog was named in a couple more attacks. Finally, after Attorney John Delaney, a resident of the neighborhood, contacted States Attorney Michael Waller, the matter was investigated and the dog was impounded by Lake County Animal Control until the April 7 hearing.

At the hearing, Haser stipulated to the facts of two petitions filed against the animal, according to Assistant States Attorney Christine Bedard. The petitions listed the dog in a biting incident and the history of problems neighbors reportedly had with the dog dating back to 1994.

A little recognition goes to some outstanding Boy Scouts

Oops

In April 4th's column I wrote a blurb about St. Ignatius' upcoming Bike-a-thon in which they are trying to raise funds to help build their new church. Unfortunately the phone number which was printed was the incorrect number. So to anyone out there who might have tried to get some further information on the event or obtain the registration form, here is the phone number you need: 395-3524. Just ask for Arlene.

Way to go girls

There is a very special group of girls who belong to Junior Girl Scout Troop 1705. These girls, with the help of the Antioch VFW Ladies Auxiliary, have decided to give Thank-you cards to each veteran at North Chicago Veterans Hospital on May 1 which just happens to be Loyalty

Day. The girls are busily decorating approximately 400 cards which will then be hand delivered to each veteran in the hospital by the auxiliary members. What a nice gesture girls, you should be very proud of the task you have graciously undertaken. What a good-hearted way to remember those men and women who put their lives on the line to defend our country. There's no doubt the veterans will truly appreciate your acknowledgement of their great deed.

Can't forget the boys

During the month of February, the Antioch VFW had the distinct pleasure of hosting four Pinewood Derby's as well as four Blue and Gold Dinners for the various Cub Scout Packs in the Antioch area. These dinners, which are held for the scouts and their parents, are when the Cub Scouts are recognized for their achievements and receive awards for these accomplishments. They usually include a tasty dinner, a few presentations, a sufficient amount of hand-shaking, and a whole abundance of smiles. The VFW does this every year and according to the Commander John Kurinec and his PR Director Al Himber, they find it to be one of their most gratifying experiences during the year—it must be a sight seeing all those young gentlemen in their snappy uniforms. Congratulations to all you young men who worked so hard throughout the year to achieve your goals and remain dedicated to your fellow scouts.

It's birthday time

April is probably a pretty good month for birthdays. Most people have finished paying off their credit cards from their Christmas shopping sprees and along with the warm weather comes the urge to get out of the house, so why not go shopping. So to all you April babies—best wishes: Patty Anderson, Jeff Baird, Brent Bies, John Boerman, Katrina (bet I don't have a pizza

ACHS boys volleyball chart new waters

There was some nervous anticipation expected from the Antioch team which started the boys volleyball season a few weeks ago against Carmel.

These same Sequoits hope to have a chance for a rematch based on the way they have played of late.

"We started out slowly against Carmel, but if we played today, we would beat them. We have improved drastically," said coach Heather Coleman.

The Sequoits are 0-6 in their first varsity season after two spring seasons as a club sport. The losses have included three-set battles against Lake Forest on April 9 and to Evanston at the Evanston tournament.

"The players have a positive aspect in that this is a new sport to the school. We have accomplished so much. Our goal is to execute the plays we have learned," said Coleman.

Seniors on the squad include Paul Spronk. Spronk is 6-2 and Sequoit fans last saw him playing hoops. "This is his first year, but he is an all-around player, both passing and hitting," said Coleman.

Mike Keefe is a 6-0 outside hitter. His younger brother Ryan is a 5-9 freshman who is a backrow specialist.

Scott Bartleson, who contributed to the attack in a second-game win over Lake Forest, is a junior who has club experience. He played for Shoreline volleyball out of Lake Forest.

Tim Chilcote is a junior who is Antioch's setter.

"We have been using a 5-1 lineup with one setter, but we may go to a 6-2 set-up with two," said Coleman.

Sophomore Brian Soldano and freshman Aaron James are underclassmen who have contributed.

The Sequoits fell to the Scouts 3-15, 15-13, 3-15 in a North Suburban Conference opener. They took Evanston to three games before losing 15-12, 12-15, 12-15. They lost to Marist in three games and New Trier at Evanston.

Coleman reports interest is high for boys volleyball as 40 players tried out for two teams. "We expect to be very competitive in our first season and more so next year," said Coleman.

Antioch hosts Mundelein on April 23.

Relays proving a strength for ACHS boys track squad

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

When the emphasis is on relays, Antioch High's boys track and field team has fared well this spring.

Such will be the case at the Stevenson Relays April 18. The Sequoits are looking for a similar effort which got them a second-place finish at the Leyden relays a week earlier.

"One of our strengths is relays and field events. A lot of events are liked that early in the season to try and encourage different kids to gain experience," said ACHS coach Norm Hahn.

Antioch, which tallied 126 points, was second to Elmwood Park in the six-team meet.

The long jump combined score of 67-5 from Quinn Gooch, Ray Lafferty, Erick Meyers and Ken Adelizzi took first place.

High jumpers Quinn Gooch, Jason Erlenborn, Kelli Owens and Mike Castiglia's effort of 21-2 earned first place.

A third first-place title came in the shot put as Bryan Dembinski, Bryan Potter, Jason Jenison and Jason Ultes combined for 167 feet.

Dembinski, Potter, Dave Gooch and Steve Spencer totaled 83 feet in their discus throws for a first-place finish.

Dave Gooch won the high hurdles in 1:13 while Brian Terryberry won the intermediate hurdles for ACHS.

The Sequoits suffered a 73-72 loss to Grayslake in a dual meet earlier this season.

It was a cold but good night for Dave Gooch. The junior won the 100-meters in 11.6; the 200-meters in 23.8; and the discus with a toss of 128-6.

The 1,600-meter relay team of Quinn Gooch, Myers, Adam Podstawa and Dave Gooch won. The 800-meter relay team of Adelizzi, Podstawa, John Watters and Greg Gorsline won with a 143.4.

Ernborn, the pole vault specialist for ACHS, won with an effort of 10 feet.

Potter took the shot put with a throw of 43-10 1/2.

As for the Stevenson meet, Hahn said the Sequoits should do well in the field events, but noted "this is the youngest team we have had in quite a while," said Hahn.

'Hammer' hits Blue Streaks hard in needed ACHS win

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Antioch earned a hard-fought non-conference win over Woodstock in a match which came down to a marathon confrontation at number three doubles.

The ACHS duo of Andrew "The Hammer" Dohrmann and Kevin Ward outlasted Woodstock's Matt Wormly and Jay Koch April 9 3-6, 6-3, 7-5 on a cold Wednesday.

"The match hinged on this victory. We were tied 2-2 and needed this win. The guys played their hearts out," said head coach Brian Plinske. "It would have been easy, after dropping the first set, to give up and get out of the freezing weather. But they battled back and split the first two sets."

"Then in a see-saw battle in the third set Kevin used his skills at the net in conjunction with 'The Hammer's' powerful serve and ground strokes to win. They had come from so far back—it was too far to lose."

ACHS swept the doubles matches after dropping two singles decisions.

"We really rely on our doubles," said Plinske.

The Sequoits had suffered a 5-0 loss at the hands of St. Viator for a 2-1 record.

Against Woodstock, the two singles players played strong matches before eventually losing. J.J. Edwards fell 6-2, 6-2 to Zach Austin.

"J.J. played an all-around strong game. He is still banging away from the baseline and trying to out-power opponents," said Plinske. "Unfortunately, many of J.J.'s shots were too long. He didn't have the pinpoint accuracy he had against Grayslake. This could be attributed to his lack of practice time during the past week caused by adverse weather conditions."

Jeremy Jones made his debut at number two singles and lost to Alex Ballenson 6-0, 6-1.

"Jeremy put forth a strong effort in his first match. Jeremy has the skills to be a solid tennis player but he just needs more experience. He relied on his speed and quickness to cover the entire court, but it just wasn't enough," said Plinske.

Erik Lipps and Steve Drengrer won the first doubles match for Antioch over Ben Moorhouse and Steve Gehrke 6-3, 6-4.

"Erik and Steve continued their great communication skills and strength at the net to get the victory. They know how to play the angles at the net. Their finesse skills are extraordinary," said Plinske. "They have the talent to hit the baseline on the shot and drop one to two inches from the net on their next."

Antioch's Chris Phillips and Kevin Chudd recorded a straight set win over Phil Groh and Bryan Horner 6-3, 6-2. The ACHS duo was making its debut as well.

Carmel shows relief pitchers' value as romp ACHS

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Relief pitching can make or break a baseball team's fortunes.

In the non-conference portion of the schedule, Carmel's squad has found that aspect of the game to be a strength.

Such was the case as Carmel downed Antioch 11-3 April 15. The Sequoits bullpen could not keep the Carmel offense close, while Antioch could not gain a single hit against Carmel relievers Cory Domel and Dave Lawlor.

The two have teamed with Eric Steffenberg as effective relief pitchers as the Corsairs readied for the East Suburban Catholic Conference opener April 19 against mighty Joliet Catholic.

"I am going into games in the later innings. I just want to throw strikes. We have been a pretty together team," said Lawlor, a junior.

Lawlor prepared for the season by throwing at indoor baseball facilities and lifting weights. "I added a slider and worked on the fastball," Lawlor said.

Josh Ward started the game against Antioch and pitched five innings to even his record at 2-2. He had eight strikeouts and surrendered six hits.

"The idea was to save some arms for the doubleheader Saturday," said ACHS coach Chuck Gandolfi.

Carmel improved to 11-2 with the win. They had one more game to get through, against rival Mundelein, before the challenge against the Hilltoppers. Antioch, playing in its first game in more than a week, fell to 4-4.

"The week off may have had Here it Comes!!

"Chris relied on his doubles experience from last year to get back in the groove. It's not easy to go out and play with someone you have never played with before. It's even harder to win," said Plinske.

All eyes were on the number three doubles battle by then, and Dohrmann and Ward came through.

ACHS has a home stand this week by opening North Suburban Conference matches against Libertyville April 17. Rockford East, St. Edward and North Shore Country Day all visit for a quadrangular meet at the refurbished Sequoit courts April 19.

"It shows how the entire school and community have gotten behind tennis. It should be a real boost," said Plinske.

The match against Libertyville April 17 is important if the Sequoits hope to gain top-four status in the NSC.

the first inning scoring.

ACHS answered in its second, scoring a run on a ground out RBI after Eric Bubash reached on a Carmel error.

Carmel extended the lead to 5-1, only to learn of ACHS's comeback abilities.

A walk to Jerry McMahon started a two-run second inning. Matt Dana and O'Malley had singles, O'Malley's of the bunting variety and Kaywood's sacrifice fly brought home a run. A fielder's choice and another Antioch error later and the home team had a four-run cushion.

Brett McCullom was Antioch's starter and his record was evened at 2-2.

ACHS gained a two-run deficit in the fifth before the roof caved in. Watkins, double started the inning and he scored on a two-base error.

Ex-WTHS infielder adjusts to outfield for Lancers

STEVE PETERSON
Staff Reporter

Jen Buckingham moved across the diamond to a new position in the lineup for the CLC softball team.

Once third baseman for Warren, she now plays right field for the Lancers.

"She has done a wonderful job. She has 12 putouts. I don't think she has caught a flyball standing up yet," said coach Sue Garcia.

The defense for the Lancers has been dependable in the first 15 games, for the 3-12 Lancers. The offense has only found its groove in the last few contests, most notably a 24-0 stomping of McHenry April 10.

Tina Meyer, a Round Lake grad, had two three-run homers to pace the 18-hit attack. Katie Klein also hit one, her first of the year.

"Tina has two doubles and two triples and two home runs. She is a power hitter," said Garcia.

Stolarik batted behind Meyer and did not have any RBIs, but did help her own cause with a 4-5 day at the plate with a double.

CLC is 1-2 in Skyway Conference play. Losses came to Morton 4-2 and Waubesa 10-2.

"We are pretty strong up the middle," said Garcia.

The Lancers host Oakton in Skyway play April 17.

American Lung Assn. Golf Outing

The American Lung Assn. of Lake County is holding its annual "Fairways for Airways" Celebrity Golf Outing on Tuesday, June 10, at Midlane Country Club in Wadsworth. It will be a 12 p.m. shotgun start with dinner and auction to follow. This year's Honorary Chairman is Barry Minter, Chicago Bears Linebacker.

The entry fee is just $150 per golfer or $600 per foursome. Activities include: 18 holes of golf with cart, lunch and dinner, $25,000 hole-in-one contest and more.

For more info, call 295-LUNG (5864).

ACHS netters challenge McHenry

Antioch High battled McHenry to a 3-2 loss in a non-conference tennis meet.

"McHenry is always a strong team and it would have been a big win for us. We were right there until the very end. On the up side, Antioch doubles teams are positioning themselves well for the sectional tournament," said ACHS coach Bryan Plinske.

J.J. Edwards lost at first singles to Pete Althoff of the Warriors 6-2, 6-1 in the April 14 match. "J.J. played his usual game of camping on the baseline but did charge the net every once in a while. The accuracy in J.J.'s game still hasn't come back.

Hopefully with all the playing time he will get this week, he will find it before the we play conference opponents," said Plinske.

Scott Klinesmith lost to Jason Neuman for a 6-2, 6-2 match at second singles for Antioch. It was Klinesmith's first start of the season. "He played well considering that his strength lies in doubles. Scott used the serve and volley approach throughout the match," said Plinske.

Steve Drengler and Eric Lipps notched a win for Antioch at first doubles by downing Ryan Gamperl and Matt Kirkham 6-4, 6-4. "Their net play and communication served them well as they increased their overall record to 3-1," said Plinske.

Kevin Chudd and Chris Phillips teamed at number two doubles for a 6-2, 6-2 win over Dan Bartelsen and Tom Esser. "Between Kevin's hustle and Chris's net play, these guys will continue to be a force to be reckoned with throughout the season," said Plinske.

Kevin Ward and Andrew "The Hammer" Dohrmann lost a marathon at third doubles for Antioch over Collin Black and Jim Capisano. They won the first set 7-5, lost the second set 7-5 and the tie breaker 8-6.

"There is never a dull moment with these two. Every time they go out it seems as if they want to get their money's worth. Their last two matches have gone three sets. Their inexperience hurts them at times. They are both juniors and this is Andrew's first time on the team. The match came down to the last two points. Even though they lost, they are proving themselves every time they take the court. Lesser players would have given up but these guys battled back and gave it their best. That is all what a coach can ask for," said Plinske.

JV, Frosh softball rally

The Antioch High junior varsity softball team is off to a fast 4-1 start this season.

The girls wins include a 10-9 come-from behind win over Grayslake on April 10.

Karen Lockheed led the offensive attack with four hits. Other Sequoits hitting safely were Kristin Lynch with three hits, Lori Loefer with two doubles and two RBIs. Lockheed and Carrie Hagglund each had a double and a single. Katie DeFer, Becky Birren, Nicole cone, Mandy Mede, and Veronica Pazanin each contributed a single to the Sequoit hitting attack.

In a key defensive play, Lockheed caught a short fly, then turned an throw to first base for a double play. Pazanin also added to the defensive effort with an unassisted double play. Sisters Karen and Kristin Lockheed each saw time on the mound. Karen allowed four hits and eight runs, while Kristina allowed two hits and one run.

ACHS will host Round Lake in a doubleheader on April 19 at Polley Field. ACHS begins North Suburban Conference play at Libertyville April 22 and April 24.

The freshmen team won 14-13 in the bottom of the fifth inning.

Kaeleen O'Connell struck out six batters in three innings; Jessica Wells and Amanda Goblirsch each hit homers. The winning run was scored by O'Connell who hit home Sara Groh.

Digging for roots

Genealogy club members trace history to witch trial victim, Alfred the Great and Annie Oakley

JEFF PATERSON
Staff Reporter

After watching a historical documentary or drama, one may think, "I wonder what my family was doing back then?" Finding the answers, however, can be a challenging undertaking without any guidance about documentation or where to look for information.

One of the local groups organized to help people with delving into their family's past is the Zion Genealogical Society. Founded in 1979 and sponsored by the Zion Benton Public Library, the Z.G.S. and its more than 70 members welcome visitors to see what information they and their collection of microfiche and texts can offer.

"I think the society works because it has people who work with each other and talk with each other," says President Carrie Johann of Waukegan. "I think that's our main strength."

The society meets the third Monday of each month and hosts workshops to help deal with research problems. The Z.G.S. has also built a collection of more than 700 text volumes at the library to assist with genealogical research.

Johann has been a member for seven years. She began her research to help a niece obtain a scholarship offered by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

"It became an obsession," Johann says. "My niece later decided that she didn't need the scholarship, but I'm still doing it."

Johann has been able to trace lines of her family back to the 6th Century and to England's King Alfred the Great. Along the way, she has encountered a number of other interesting ancestors, including three Confederate soldiers who participated in Pickett's Charge at the Battle of Gettysburg and two other relatives who fought for the North.

Rebecca Nurse was another notable member of Johann's family tree. Nurse was hanged during the Salem Witch Trials, and was the only one later found innocent of the charges when witnesses subsequently recanted their testimony.

Johann enjoys finding out about the circumstances of her ancestors' lives and deaths, saying she "finds that more interesting than just a bunch of dusty names and dates."

One of the society's most dedicated members is co-founder and past president Joanne Layne, also of Waukegan. Her study is devoted almost exclusively to family research with maps, histories, and records on CD-ROM, microfiche and on paper lining every wall. Layne has been 'hooked' on her study for almost a quarter of a century. Her interest began when she was looking through a book detailing the home county of her ex-husband's family in Virginia.

"I thought it was very fascinating and I thought 'Gee I don't have a clue about mine (her family),' she says. "It turned out that mention (in the book) of that particular family was not his family, but it got me started. It's been almost 25 years now, before 'Roots.'"

Layne acknowledges that the book by Alex Haley, tracing the author's family back through slavery and to its tribe in Africa, "generated a tremendous amount of interest" and did a lot to popularize genealogy. Today genealogy has become one of the nation's most popular hobbies, with an estimated 113 interested adults and 19 million dedicated devotees. Layne adds that 'Roots' helped to create a thriving market for all of the resources that aid researchers today, including various publications and indexes.

With neither Haley's book nor the mini-series which followed it now in the public spotlight, Layne notes that many genealogists today are motivated to begin their research because of a personal sense of separation from their past. She has found it to be common that many genealogists have turned to researching their families following the loss of a senior family member.

"Indirectly, I think you start to sense that 'I could lose my connection to my past,'" Layne says, explaining why people turn to genealogy. "The other thing I think that correlates to that is when people move away from their roots. I think that's another phenomenon that contributes to it (the interest in genealogy): the need for that connection or that understanding that you belong someplace ... recognizing where you fit in."

Having developed many of her research skills as a hobby, Layne has been able to market them professionally as well. A former employee of Abbott Laboratories, she has been working out of her office at home for almost two years as the founder and operator of PeopleSearch. Services offered by Layne's company include background checks for employers, searches for missing heirs, adoption research and reuniting lost loves, as well as aiding people with genealogical research.

Like Johann's, Layne's own personal research has been quite successful. Tracing back her maiden name of Conine, Layne has been able to follow it back to Dutch immigrants named Conyn living along the Hudson River, south of Albany, N.Y., in the 1650s. She has also tried to interest her grandchildren in their family's past by showing them how they are related, through Layne's great-grandmother, to famous western sharpshooter and horsewoman Annie Oakley.

"There was a really neat article (about Oakley) in the Smithsonian Magazine, and the kids really got thrilled about that and they checked out books from the library," she says, noting that, for her time, Annie Oakley "was a superstar."

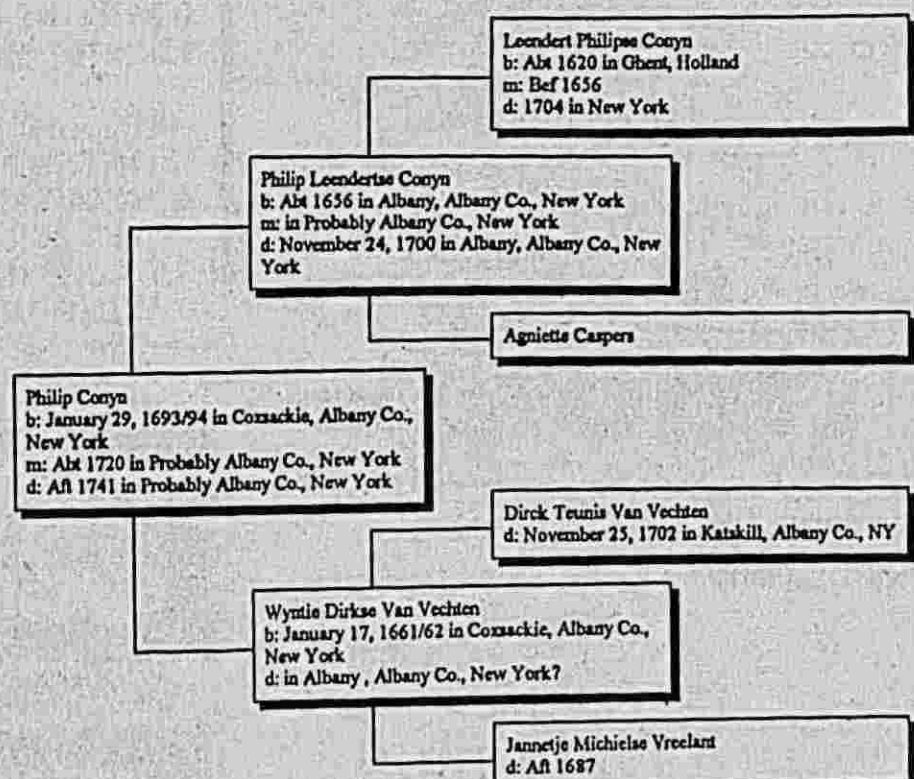

For a person just setting out to research their family tree, Layne said they should start by canvassing relatives, near or distant, for information and by asking to see any old documents these people may have in their keepsake boxes, basements or attics.

"That's one of the things you should do in the begin See ROOTS page B5

CLC celebrates Earth Day with week of activities

A variety of presentations on wildlife and a field trip to the Des Plaines Wetland Demonstration Project in Wadsworth will highlight CLC's Earth Day observance scheduled from April 21 to 25.

Sponsored by the CLC environmental issues committee, the activities are intended to provide greater public awareness of the value of wildlife and the interdependence of species, according to Michael Corn, associate dean, biological and health sciences at CLC. Admission to all activities is free.

The program includes:
Lecture on "Predator Birds," 1 and 7 p.m., April 21, Grayslake Campus auditorium. Roger Tucker, director of education for the Lake Forest Open Lands Assn., will speak on the preservation of birds of prey. Tucker, a master falconer and skilled bird watcher, will display a red-tailed hawk, a peregrine falcon and a Cooper's hawk. Tucker has helped with the reintroduction of the peregrine falcon and has conducted years of research on the Cooper's hawk.

Field trip to the Des Plaines Wetland Demonstration Project in Wadsworth, 1 p.m. April 22. CLC biology instructor Scott Hickman, who served as the principal investigator for bird research during the restoration period of the project, will lead the tour. Space is limited to 15 people, and admission is available by advance registration only. Call Hickman at 543-2884 for reservations.

Multi-screen slide presentation on the Galapagos Islands, 7 p.m., April 22, Grayslake Campus auditorium. CLC biology instructor Jerry Hinkley, an award-winning biologist, nature photographer and lecturer, will lead the audience on a photographic journey to the Galapagos Islands, also known as the Land of Volcanoes.

Tour the Willow Lake Natural Area, noon to 2 p.m. April 23. Join biology instructor Linda Curtis and CLC President Gretchen Naff as they open the new nature trail around CLC's Willow Lake. Curtis will highlight the natural features of the lake, which serves as a living laboratory for biology students. Points of interest include Beaver Island, a wetland buffer zone and wildlife habitat. Advance registration is required. Call Cheena Wade at 543-2883 for reservations.

"A Howlin' Good Time," a presentation on wild animals featuring a wolf, a coyote and a Canadian lynx, 7 p.m., April 23, Grayslake Campus auditorium. John and Shari Basile, proprietors of "Big Run Wolf Ranch," a licensed educational facility specializing in the conservation of native American wildlife, will speak.

"Snakes Alive!," a presentation on reptiles, 1 and 7 p.m., April 24, Grayslake Campus auditorium. Michael Corn, associate dean, biological and health sciences, will cover the myths, mysteries and facts surrounding reptiles. During more than 26 years at CLC, Corn has maintained a collection of living reptiles and amphibians—primary snakes—including more than 50 specimens and representing more than 15 species, both harmless and venomous. Corn introduces different snakes, from a foot long king snake to a 12 foot long python. Admission is free.

For information on Earth Day celebrations, call 543-2445 or 543-2883.

Family day

All ages are invited to join the Lake County Forest Preserves' Lake County Museum for games, crafts and more at Family Day Sundays, an educational activity series which runs every Sunday in April, from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

Stitch up some fun at Needlepoint Minis on April 20. Learn the tent stitch and take your practice piece of canvas home with you.

On April 27, become an archaeologist for the day at Pottery Puzzles. Test your archaeological skills as you match fragments of pottery to examples of whole pots.

Come early and explore the museum's new exhibits, "Model A to Z28: America's Love Affair with the Road," and "Wildlife Watercolors."

Family Day Sundays are free with general admission. Reservations are not required and there are no additional fees for activities. General admission to the museum is $2.50 for adults, and $1 for youths, ages 4 to 18. Children 3 and under enter free. The museum is open from 1 to 4:30 p.m., on Sundays, and 11 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday. The Lake County Museum is located in Lakewood Forest Preserve on Rte. 176, just west of Fairfield Road near Wauconda. For more information, call the museum at 526-7878.

'Empress'

The Northbrook Theatre For Young Audiences professional adult company presents the musical, "New Clothes for the Empress," with performance running through May 10 on Saturdays, at 10:30 a.m. and 1 p.m., at the Leisure Center Theatre, located at 3323 Waters Ave., Northbrook.

"New Clothes for the Empress," set in 18th Century France, adds a delicious twist to the classic Hans Christian Andersen children's story finding women can also be vain about the clothes they wear.

The Northbrook Theatre For Young Audiences is a professional theatre company of adult actors that perform with kids in mind. Field trips are available for school groups on Tuesdays and Thursdays; arrangements must be made in advance for those dates. Call the box office at 291-2367 for reservations. ## Curacao, the Amsterdam of the Caribbean by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Entering the harbor on the south coast of the island, I wonder if our captain needs to have his compass repaired. This can't be a Caribbean island capital. What are all these Dutch canal houses doing here? This must be Amsterdam!

But, no. It's much too warm here. And the water's so clear. Indeed, this is the Caribbean. We have arrived at Willemstad, the capital city of the Island of Curacao. Lying just 35 miles north of South American, this island was conquered by the Dutch in 1634. Though now an independent nation, Curacao displays much of the influence of her centuries-old link, with the Netherlands. But even the 200-year-old Dutch town houses don't look completely out of place with their untraditional, gay tropical colors.

One of the things that makes this island different from her sisters in the Caribbean is the rather high standard living. Curacao's prosperity is due to a Dutch-owned Shell Oil refinery and the largest ship-repairing yard in the western hemisphere.

While the Caribbean Islands are known for their sunny days, Curacao has more than its northerly neighbors. In fact, rain is so scarce that Curacao must rely upon distilled seawater for its water supply. Dry does not necessarily mean hot, though. Thanks to the northeast tradewinds, you can be assured of a constant cool breeze.

Curacao has the endless white sand beaches and crystal clear ocean you would expect of a Caribbean island. If you are a diver, or just into a little snorkeling, you will find Curacao's waters hard to match. Deep sea fishing, sailing windsurfing, it's all here. Rather spend your time (and your money) inside? Curacao offers several casinos for your gambling pleasure.

What makes Curacao really worth a visit, though, is the variety of things there are to do and see on this island. This is one island nation that has really developed. It has more to offer than just sun and sand. The conglomeration of Dutch, Spanish, African and South American cultures have blended to form what is uniquely Curacao.

The computer is on, but nobody's home

Sometimes, it's good to be a writer.

For instance, in this profession, we get to operate under the mysterious cloak of "creativity."

In other words, "non-writers" assume that we simply sit down in front of our computer and suddenly we receive "inspiration," perhaps in the form of some type of electrical jolt from the heavens. Of course, this may be true in the case of those poor "Heaven's Gate" folks out in California, who apparently spent far too much time receiving inspiration from their computers.

In reality, or for those of us not awaiting the arrival of an alien spaceship, that is not exactly what happens. Inspiration, for me, comes in more down to earth ways, and can be found in the little bits and pieces of my life, if I'm listening.

For instance, this morning the phone rang and my 3-year-old daughter ran to answer it, as she likes to do lately. This was the conversation:

"Hello?" said Sammy.

"Hello," said the voice. "Can I speak to your daddy?"

"Who is dis?" Sammy demanded.

"Mr. Church," he told her.

"That's a weird name!" she exclaimed and handed the phone to her dad in disgust.

Now, most weeks, I'd be able to take that little tidbit and turn it into about 600 words for the amusement of my readers. However, this is not most weeks.

DONNA ABEAR

This week, my brain heard that little funny tidbit and instead of spinning it into a story about children and telephones, the thought just sort of went kerplunk. No jolt. No inspiration. No column.

And maybe you're thinking to yourself, "Good—I wasn't in the mood for some stupid column about her kid talking on the telephone!" In that case, you'll be happy to know that thought never entered my mind (nor did any other thoughts, for that matter!).

Now, getting back to my point (and believe me, I am desperately trying to find one!), the reason I began by stating "sometimes it's good to be a writer" is because at least when I am incapable of performing my writing job well, I don't have to feel bad. In a normal job, if you just sat at your desk and stared into space all day, you might be called "incompetent" and fired. But as a writer if you sit at your desk all day and stare into space, you receive sympathy instead. "Poor thing," they whisper. "She has writer's block."

Writer's block, of course, is considered nearly as mysterious as "inspiration." What really happens, as far as I can tell, is that suddenly your brain just goes to sleep. Similar to the way your children's brains go to sleep when you tell them to "take out the garbage."

And sitting at the computer waiting for inspiration doesn't help, either. Actually, when I have writer's block I try to avoid sitting at the computer altogether, because believe me, when I look at that blank screen, absolutely nothing appears on it, inspirational or otherwise.

Or, if something does appear on that screen, it looks a lot like what you just read.

Editor's note: Donna Abear can also be heard as a guest humorist on WXLC 102.3 FM's morning show at 7:10 a.m. on alternate Mondays.

Roots

ning, because there's no point in duplicating something that someone already knows," she said, adding that "I've seen people go back to 1860 in one day with just the things that were in their house."

Layne said that such cases are far more the exception than the rule, however, and she advises novices to be ready to "not be like cows and graze, but to be like pigs and dig" for information. That process is continually getting easier, however, with the proliferation of information accessible through the Internet and through the availability of computer software programs to organize it.

To help beginners get started, and the experienced hone their skills, The Z.G.S. is offering an all-day seminar on April 26 at St. Therese Hospital in Waukegan. The featured speaker is to be Helen F. M. Leary, who will speak on methodology, and the event will offer beginner workshop classes. Those interested should call Johann at (847) 623-2396 or Layne at (847) 360-0360 for more information. Although she acknowledges that visiting information sites in person can overcome problems due to name variations and mis-spellings, Layne said that a great deal can also be done through writing away to the county or town court for records. Typically these records would include documents such as birth, marriage and death certificates. Each state usually has a repository for old official records. In this state, for example, old court records are kept in Northern Illinois University.

Other types of useful records are newspaper obituaries, birth certificates, land probates and military service records, the last of which the Civil War generated in incredible detail.

Layne said that the Mormons, in pursuing ancestral research as an aspect of their religious lives, have provided genealogists with invaluable resources. These resources include family catalogs on microfiche and the Family History Library of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints, headquartered in Salt Lake City, Utah, with more than 2,600 branches worldwide.

Federal census records are very useful in tracing families in tracing the movements of families from state to state. Carrie Johann adds that censuses, formerly conducted by the states themselves, can be even more interesting because "you not only find out who was in someone's family, but you also find out what crops they raised and how many cattle, and often, how many slaves, they had."

Slave ownership is just one unappealing aspect that could be discovered about one's ancestors. Both Layne and Johann note that there are typically other skeletons lurking in many family closets, such as multiple divorces, criminal activity and incestuous relationships.

But even with research problems and the occasional shock, the two women continue to be driven by their research.

"I do it because there are still questions that I haven't answered yet," Johann says, "and those questions will always exist."

Movie Pick Kilmer's 'Saint' a holy mess

The first clue that a big-time movie hasn't got it comes when the opening ads are filled with kudos from critics you've never heard of. Glance at this week's promos for "The Saint" for example. Almost thought we saw our name in there!

Val Kilmer seems a passable actor when he tackles roles like that of the star-crossed Jim Morrison or "Doc" Holiday, but his recent career choices are far from batting a thousand.

He turned down a second Batman fiasco, which was at least a guaranteed super thriller with burger-house characters to boot, for a disastrous vacation with Marlon Brando on Dr. Moreau's island, and now he shows up in a sub-super thriller centered on Roger Moore's sub-Bond character, Simon Templar, better known as "The Saint."

Templar, an upper crust thief, loves to drive a slick white sports car and rub elbows with the dregs of London's criminal element clad in one disguise or another. Who Templar is for or against as he flits between England and Moscow seems to be a rather cloudy issue, as is the scientist played by Elisabeth Shue, who also makes a bad career choice after winning the Academy Award for "Leaving Las Vegas."

Elisabeth Shue and Val Kilmer

Supposedly the character changes symbolize Templar's fight between his lower nature who wants to sell Shue's alternate energy source discovery to the Russians, and his attraction to her that tells him to help her. We only know this because of a promo blurb. If there was any chemistry between these two, they keep it as well hidden as the core of this movie's storyline.

Anyone who is still wondering about the sense of the plot of "Mission Impossible," better stay away from this one unless they want to add to that frustration. This spy thriller, if that's what it's supposed to be, does follow the usual illegal entry plus a chase scene here and there formula, but everything is a haze as Kilmer thirsts after a different persona, each with a saintly connection, every time he turns around, yet we always recognize him.

Part of this mystery is why the other characters in the movie can't see what we see.

We give the PG-13 rated "The Saint," two out of five stars and suggest you wait to rent the video. —by GLORIA DAVIS

No punishment now can mean a lot of punishment later!

What is going on in this country with the concept of discipline and punishment? Both at the country level and in our homes and schools, we seem to have an allergy to discipline and punishment. Even the words themselves have really gotten an undeserved bad rap these days. Let's talk about the big picture first and then bring it down to our homes and schools.

The big picture is this: Crimes, even as heinous as murder, can get a relatively small sentence. We hear daily about the crime committed by the three times paroled criminal who has murdered or raped or kidnapped, etc. and then we are shocked and dismayed when this three time offender does it again. This is the simplest law of psychology. We are all pattern people and shouldn't be surprised when people do the same thing time after time. I'm always surprised by the psychologist evaluator of the criminal, who, of all people, should know that unless some significant discipline or punishment is done or threatened, the pattern continues. There is plenty of research out there to support this, yet on a daily basis, we continue to hear about these types of repeat crimes.

Instead of stopping the behavior, preventing it from happening again, and making sure that the person feels something intense for doing it in the first place, we search for all the reasons and excuses we can for that persons behavior to lessen the responsibility. "He was abused as a child;" "She had ADD;" "He had just been fired." It is my contention, that none of the excuses I have heard made for out-of-control behavior holds any water at all. There are lots of people who are abused, have ADD and have just been fired, and don't go out and hurt others or commit crimes.

Now, why do I bring this up in a parents column? Easy! I see the same kind of reasoning every day in my office. It really worries me, because each and every one of these kids that is being taught to look for all the reasons for their behavior instead of taking responsibility for their behavior, may be on their way to the same pattern in adulthood. Namely, looking for the reasons and excuses instead of doing the correct behaviors or making good decisions. This is almost giving permission for those behaviors to occur. These behaviors usually end in failure of one sort or another.

The mistake that most of us make is in not separating the bad behavior or bad decisions from the "causes." What I mean by this is that we can certainly treat the causes and help the child through the problems, but this should not include absolving children of consequences or responsibility for bad behavior and decisions. In other words, we all have our baggage, but we are not allowed to be out-of-control and hurt others or do bad things based on that baggage. We all need to learn to control ourselves. So, the idea here is to make sure that bad behavior and decisions get clean pure consequences. After that process has been done, we can talk about how to deal with the causes. This is teaching responsibility and control. These things are imperative for a child to be successful.

Why does punishment have the bad rap it does? This is simple. It has been intertwined so much with the concept of abuse that it has completely become a taboo issue. I'm here to tell you that appropriate punishment has nothing what-so-ever to do with abuse. They are completely unrelated. Let me separate them for you.

Punishment is a discipline and guidance issue, meaning that it is used to teach and skill-build. Yes, the person who has been punished feels something. Probably feels emotionally hurt or bad in some way. This is necessary if you want the person to learn anything at all. You have to stop the chain of thought in some way to get attention to the learning part.

Abuse on the other hand, has absolutely no guidance involved at all. It can take the form of a beating or a parent unloading on a child with no goal or teaching in mind. Discipline and punishment are perfectly acceptable because they teach. Abuse only seeks to hurt or get even. When I say "teaches something," I mean that there is actual discussion between the "discipliner" and "disciplinee," after there has been some sort of punishment involved.

What is appropriate punishment? In my mind, for children, things like Time-out, but Time-out done correctly. Most of the time I meet people, they are not doing it correctly, so the behavior continues ad infinitum. Grounding, but again, done correctly. Again, most of the time I see it done, it isn't done correctly. Why are these things not done correctly? Again, I will say that it is due to the nationwide allergy we have to discipline and punishment. Compassion gets in the way and stops the process from doing anything positive. So, we are still punishing, feeling guilty for doing it, but not doing it correctly, so we're really not getting to our goal and have to keep repeating this process. This seems like a big waste of time to me! Getting rid of the compassion, clearly knowing our goal, doing the thing correctly, getting your message and learning across and preventing this from having to happen again seems like a far more humane and affective way to go about it. The real guilt and problems occur when you have to continually punish because your compassion gets in the way of it working the first or second time.

What about spanking? I have never seen it work in older children to permanently change a behavior and therefore am not a big fan of it. The only time I ever believe a spank actually works is when a child is pre-verbal, very young and doing something very dangerous like running out in the street or ready to touch a hot stove.

The definition of good discipline is discipline that prevents the behavior and gets kids thinking automatically the next time the choice comes up. Believe me, I have seen many families change this process quickly when they change the way they think about it.

Getting kids to think independently about the right choice isn't that hard to do. Certainly, you don't want to have to be hovering around them, telling them the right decisions the rest of your life, do you?

Many of our schools are afflicted too, at least from what I've observed and heard. I remember good discipline in school when I was there. We didn't have guns and drugs flowing through the school because we had very strict punishments that were followed without a thought. No one wanted to find out what it was so, no played with it.

Today, I hear kids talking about their "rights," "suing the school," "racism in relation to punishment for an act actually committed by them," etc.

So, why am I ranting and raving about this? It's simple, I want your children to survive and thrive later on and I believe that if we keep doing this the way we are—teaching kids to look for the reasons that they do things the wrong way or make bad decisions, instead of how not to do that or how to make good decisions, we are training them to become self-made failures instead of self-made successes. I've seen it too many times. Appropriate discipline and punishment can mean the difference between a good future and a bad one.

Remember that if you use all the time you have now with your child, not holding that child responsible for his or her decisions or actions, you may create an adult that believes the same things. This can translate into much worse punishment later in the form of failure!

HOROSCOPE

Aries - March 21/April 20

A co-worker tries to help you with a problem, but creates confusion instead. Don't get frustrated; it won't help the situation. Just work together to resolve the problem. Love is in the air at the end of the week. A friend of a friend reveals his or her true feelings for you. Scorpio plays an important role.

Taurus - April 21/May 21

Your tendency to keep quiet pays off in the beginning of the week. A close friend needs to talk and reveals personal information. Your confidence will be appreciated. When it comes to romance, you'll have to make a decision. Think about where you stand in that special relationship and where you want to end up.

Gemini - May 22/June 21

Be patient at work this week. While your boss may seem too conservative for you, he or she really has your best interest at heart. You need to look out for yourself when it comes to your personal life. It will feel like everyone is against you. Be cautious when making decisions.

Cancer - June 22/July 22

Don't be the first to volunteer for a new project at work. Wait to see everything that's involved, because it may be more than you've bargained for. However, you should take a chance when it comes to romance this week. Don't wait for that intriguing person to ask you out. Make the first move.

Leo - July 23/August 23

Your sympathetic side will be called on early in the week. A loved one needs you to listen and give moral support. Be honest, but caring. Give in to your desires, and shower yourself in luxury this weekend. It's going to be a hectic week at work, so you deserve to pamper yourself.

Virgo - Aug 24/Sept 22

While you usually like to be alone, working as a team at work this week will make things so much easier. You'll share a lot of good ideas and actually make some close friends. Loved ones will rely on you to take care of a family matter. Aquarius is involved.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

Seek harmony in the workplace this week. Don't become involved in an office disagreement. Family matters become hectic this week. Loved ones will look to you for advice and support. Take a deep breath. You'll be able to help everyone out and still have time for yourself.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

Follow your instincts in the business world this week. It's your nature to tell the truth, so stick to it. Don't be tempted to embellish; it will backfire. Love takes center stage as the week draws to a close. An old friend will resurface and want to begin a relationship. Follow your heart.

Sagittarius - Nov 23/Dec 21

Be frank when a close friend asks for your opinion. While the truth may not be what he or she wants to hear, it's what he or she needs to hear. Your romantic life slows down this week, but don't get discouraged. This break will give you time to relax and focus on yourself for a change.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Now's your chance to shine at work. You'll be given the opportunity to lead a new project; your intelligence and efficiency will shine through. Don't be shy when it comes to meeting new people this week. Your sweet, sensitive side will endear you to someone with a lot of connections.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

Let your practical side lead you in your decision making as the week begins. While it may seem like a good idea to make an impulsive purchase at first, don't do it. Finances will be tight by the week's end. A relationship will move into high gear when you realize how much you have in common with that special someone.

Pisces - Feb 19/March 20

Slow down this week, because it will feel as if your entire world is closing in on you. A few days off of work will help you relax, and time with loved ones will show you that you're still in control of your life. Virgo and Sagittarius play important roles.

Latin paradise in your own back yard

Did you know you can take a tropical vacation today, tomorrow, next week or anytime, and enjoy the best South American, or Caribbean, or Mexican food, served in an authentic native atmosphere, by just traveling a few miles to Julio's Latin Cafe at 99 S. Rand Rd. in Lake Zurich?

Cindy and Julio Ramirez welcome you to their tropical bird paradise where their friendly and knowledgeable staff will serve you Latin culinary delights that will keep you "taking a vacation" as often as possible.

The exotic bird carvings, especially the large hand-painted leather work of art that is the restaurant's centerpiece, will put you in the mood for a sip of one of our famous margarita's. You have a choice of 10 different flavors. The fresh margarita original recipe, made with fresh squeezed lime, tequila and triple sec, is a popular request.

Try our Pollo Caribe, a succulent boneless chicken breast, served in mango sauce and garnished with sautéed shrimp. Another favorite is Ropa Vieja. This is a Cuban entree of shredded beef brisket, simmered in natural juices and garlic, served with rice and black beans.

Julio's also offers weekly specials, fresh fish and an extensive wine cellar stocked with the finest South American, Spanish and a few Californian wines.

Every weekend, Julio's has live entertainment, featuring the Dan McIntyre Jazz Duo on Friday, and the guitar interpretations of Paulino Garcia on Saturday.

Visit this tropical paradise for lunch, Tues. through Friday, from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., or for dinner from 5 p.m., Mon. through Sat., or from 4:30 p.m. on Sunday. Call (847) 438-3484 for more information.

REVIEW

Glorious voices meet their 'Kismet' at Marriott

GLORIA DAVIS
Staff Reporter

The talents at the Marriott Lincolnshire Theatre are becoming proficient spinners of fairy tales. Their latest production of an updated and fast moving version of a classic Broadway hit, "Kismet," is the best in a list that includes "The Hot Mikado," "The Phantom of the Country Palace," and "Cinderella."

The artistic direction is by Dyanne Early and musical direction by Terry James, who himself played a Caliph with a beautiful voice in a past production of "Kismet" at Marriott.

The show stoppers of the evening are the two duets sung by Susan Moniz, as Marsinah and Tony Capone, as the Caliph. The musical wonder of their singing leaves audiences breathless as the strains of "Stranger in Paradise," and "This is My Beloved," fade, leaving them wanting more. Such is show biz at it's best!

I've always thought it a shame that the writers didn't realize what they had in "Paradise." It's placement in the show is anticlimatic because it would have been a great finale number!

Timothy Nolen and Alene Robertson are crisp and professional as they whip through their entertaining interpretations of Haji and Lalume with alacrity, and James Fitzgerald's Wazir greatly resembles Cinderella's Chiapetti, to the audience's delight.

The ensemble's "Baubles, Bangles and Beads," another familiar favorite, is also well done.

This is a show for the entire family, with the kids ready to enjoy it because of the popularity of Disney's "Aladdin."

In fact the only part of the evening that disappoints is the lack of a reprise of the wondrous "Stranger" by Moniz and Capone.

Susan Moniz and Tony Capone

Shrubs, climbers add interest to gardens

Shrubs form the backbone of a planting design. They offer diverse form, color and texture, and their ornamental features include foliage, flowers, and fruits. Climbers too, are versatile, either when grown with support or allowed to sprawl gracefully among other plantings. Climbers are unsurpassed as a means of screening or camouflaging otherwise unsightly garden spots. Most structures are enhanced by a climber growing up on them, providing a tranquil effect.

When considering the varieties of shrubs and climbers for your garden there are a few things to consider. First of all, be sure those that you choose will perform well in the climatic and growing conditions in your garden. You must consider the plant's eventual height, spread, and rate of growth. These factors are essential for the success of all garden plans, not just those limited in size.

Overplanting is not only wasteful and expensive, but plants that are crowded, do not perform well and usually do not achieve the beauty or form desired.

Remember, one of the most important, (perhaps, the most important) factors in successful design is choosing plants that suit your particular garden's conditions. For primary consideration, matching plants that

Gardener's Journal

by Lydia Huff

thrive in your particular soil. If you don't know your soil type, you should have it tested. There are kits available for you to test yourself or your local extension service will do this. I'm sure your garden center or local nursery can answer any questions you may have. A plant's preference for sun or shade should also be kept in mind.

Climbing plants constitute one of the most versatile of plant groups and provide an enormous scope for imaginative design. They can be selected for strong color, both in foliage or flowers. Many, especially twining species such as Wisteria, Celastrus, and Vitis species, provide interesting architectural forms when leafless in the winter. Those with dense foliage and vigorous growth can disguise the most unsightly of garden buildings.

Climbers also have a place in mixed borders, either grown on a trellis or used to extend the season of interest when allowed to scramble through other plants. Trailing or scrambling climbers attach themselves loosely to their support. They can be tied into a framework or a trellis in order to control their growth habit.

Some of my favorite flowering climbers are clematis, sweet pea, morning glory vine, and nasturtiums. There are many beautiful climbing ivies such as Boston ivy, dentata, Japanese hop vine are well worth trying.

Shrubs that add color and fragrance are lilacs (of course!) crab apples, Japanese crab apple, Arnold crab apple, butterfly bush, yellow horn. For glorious color try smoke bush, blackthorn, Japanese maple, witch hazel and spirea.

Until next time, peace.

Friends group raises money for Volo Bog

An Earth Day "March for Parks," a walk event to raise money for a variety of projects to enhance educational materials and exhibits at Volo Bog State Natural Area, will be held on Sunday, April 20. Volo Bog is located on Brandenburg Road just west of Rte. 12 in Ingleside. The Friends of Volo Bog (FOVB) will kick off the march at 10 a.m. with a rally in the Volo Bog Picnic Area, followed by a walk around Volo Bog along the three miles of Tamarack View Trail. The event will conclude at 4 p.m. The march is sponsored by the National Parks and Conservation Assn. (NPCA). To be a part of the march call Jerry Chapman at (815)344-1294.

The Friends of Volo Bog hope the March for Parks will raise approximately $10,000 for educational projects in Volo Bog's newly renovated Visitor Center due to open this summer. "These projects would not be possible without the dollars and time contributed by concerned citizens who are showing how much they care about their parks," said NPCA President Paul C. Pritchard. "Our park definitely needs the support of the citizens who participate in March for Parks," added Stacy Miller, Volo Bog's Interpretive Program Coordinator. "The Illinois State Museum will be developing some materials but the government can't do it alone. We just don't have the money for all the projects we need to do."

March for Parks is America's only national walk event for parks and open spaces. NPCA sponsors the event to raise awareness and funds for America's national, state, regional, and local parks. The March for Parks at Volo Bog is one of hundreds of marches in all 50 states that will take place in conjunction with Earth Day. The events are being organized by local environmental, school, youth, business, and other citizen groups for parks in their communities. All money raised stays at the local level for the park projects identified by each organizing group.

March for Parks is supported nationally by corporate sponsors, whose generous contributions make it possible for NPCA to distribute free organizing materials and posters to all its organizing groups around the country. The national sponsors are First USA, Clairol Herbal Essences and Walking Magazine. Initial local sponsors are Harry Bierma, business consultant representing Lakeside Management Services, Inc., in McHenry and Fred J. Miller, buyer's agent representing Campbell and Campbell Real Estate in Grayslake. For information on local sponsorships, contact Prudy Bierma at (815)385-1322.

The National Parks and Conservation Assn. is America's only private nonprofit citizen organization dedicated solely to protecting, preserving and enhancing the U.S.'s National Park System. Founded in 1919, NPCA today, has more than 450,000 members.

Living fences create appealing addition to landscape design

A "living" fence area in one's yard need not be all the same shrubs or evergreens planted in a straight line. In fact, don't you find it a bit boring? Even if there's limited space, a combination of deciduous and evergreen plant material is much more appealing and can serve the function of blocking, screening, softening, or creating an enclosed feeling even better than the straight hedge.

A "living" fence design with gentle curves is a bit more appealing than a straight edge in one's garden. Curves can add depth to a garden and allow smaller plants to be massed together in the forefront of the garden to create even more depth, texture and color combinations.

To get the most out of the design have your deciduous plant material bloom from early spring to late fall. This is possible with some careful planning and taking in the specific problems of the site. Each site or area of one's grounds will be different and close observation of the drainage, soil type, and even easement considerations all come into play during the design process. Drainage and soil type are extremely important as well as exposure for proper plant selections.

I've seen many evergreen trees, lilacs and Norway maples planted in the lowest corner of one's property to soften the view of the neighbor's. This will not work, as these types of plants prefer higher, well drained sites to grow vigorously. If you have to have evergreens in a low area to create a blockage year-round, a earthen berm with a drainage system must be designed and implemented. The water must continue to flow along the original grade, yet must flow away from the base of the evergreens planted. This type of project is best left to professionals. Just throwing five yards of topsoil down into the middle of a low area and then planting an evergreen tree on the top of this berm is not the solution, because when the roots of the tree grow through the topsoil into the sub-soil, they will encounter wet soils and this will prevent the plant from growing in a vigorous manner.

It's a pleasure to see the cascading branches of a forsythia of "Bridal Wreath" Spirea early in the spring. Their showy display finishes and the long blooming periods of the large viburnum species ranging in size from three feet to 20 feet continues. The fall blooming Witchazel shows off in October, while the Blue-Green Spruce, Serbian Spruce, or artistic Pine enhance the backdrop of a living fence garden.

The flowering crab not only show us beautiful flowering each spring, but have great branching habit as well as berry interests.

And last but not least are the lower growing groundcovers and perennials that can be woven in and out of a garden. If this type of "living" fence design serves its functional purpose first, it surely will delight one's senses as they gaze upon their grounds.—by MIKE GRECO, landscape architect, owner of Mill Creek Nursery, Inc. Call 838-0501 for landscaping questions.

Condell receives Regional Organ Bank of Illinois award

ROBI, the Regional Organ Bank of Illinois, will be presenting Condell Medical Center with an award for placing sixth in tissue donation in the Northern Illinois area in 1996. The award ceremony will take place at a luncheon honoring nursing staff members responsible for earning the citation on Thursday, April 24 at the Medical Center in Libertyville.

ROBI is sponsoring the luncheon during National Organ and Tissue Donor Awareness Week, April 20 through 26.

"We are particularly grateful to the health care professionals who work with families to encourage them to give The Gift of Life to those in need," said Allan Valdallon, manager of Tissue Services for ROBI. "The problem is painfully obvious. More than 2,800 Illinois men, women and children are waiting for a Gift of Life—an organ or tissue transplant. The solution is simple. People need to know the facts about organ and tissue donation, free of myths and misconceptions, and make the decision to donate. Condell's staff members are committed to making donations possible. Our award is a demonstration of our admiration and gratitude for their dedication."

Condell's award will be accepted by Colette Hall, vice president of Nursing Services, who thanked ROBI on behalf of her staff. "We are proud to receive this citation and thank ROBI for recognizing both the importance and the sensitivity of this issue for our nursing staff. I know we will continue to consider giving the Gift of Life a priority and a deep commitment at Condell."

Over 80 nurses will be honored including staff members from Condell's Emergency, Intensive Care and Surgery Departments.

"For the past 11 years, April has been the time when Americans commemorate the generosity of organ and tissue donors whose Gifts of Life enable others to have their second chance at living. The need is critical, and the numbers are astounding. This year the national waiting list topped 50,000. In Illinois alone, more than 2,800 men, women and children are waiting for a lifesaving or life-enhancing transplant," Valdallon explained.

"Although April is the designated month to focus on awareness, education is a year-round activity. Thousands of Americans wait day after day, knowing that their chance for life and good health depends on the willingness of more Americans to share the Gift of Life," he concluded.

Condell Medical Center is a 187-bed acute care hospital located on 60 acres.

The hospital offers a full range of high-quality inpatient and outpatient health care services. A Level II Trauma Center. A medical staff of more than 400 physicians is complemented by a service-oriented professional staff.

Marathon changes course route for charity race

The 1997 Lake County Races, scheduled for Sunday, April 27, will include course changes which will occur within the Naval Training Center Great Lakes (NTCGL) in North Chicago and Lake Forest. The new routing will make minor alterations within the NTCGL and major rerouting in Lake Forest from the 15.5 mile mark to the 19 mile mark.

"The addition of Sousa Hill in '96 made for a lot of talk among the runners. Many of them were very surprised to find the hill at the 10.5 mile mark last year. We discussed the route change and decided to keep the hill for the '97 based on comments from runners and the impact on the old route had on the NTCGL," says Gretchen Bercas, race director. "Runners will encounter Sousa Hill at the 10 mile mark and the minor course alterations will occur at the top of the uphill and will include a small addition of two traffic triangles to add distance, so that the half-marathon finish line can be moved further north in the Lake Bluff train parking lot. This will allow us a greater amount of room for the post race refreshments and gear check, and alleviate the crowding at the Half-Marathon finish line area."

The Lake Forest portion of the marathon and relay routes needed to be changed due to a bridge that is currently under construction on Mayflower. This year's route will take runners through the scenic Drives will be held at the Norris Center, 1999 S. Campus Dr. and at the Kellogg School of Management, 2001 Sheridan Rd., and are sponsored by the Austin Scholars and Zeta Beta Tau Fraternity.

The potential life-saving procedure is open to anyone between the ages of 18 to 60 and in good health, and takes only 20 minutes and two tablespoons of blood (similar to a blood test at the doctor's office). Participants are asked to register in the National Marrow Donor Program.

The first bone marrow registry drive at Northwestern was organized in 1991 by Jonathan Michael Schatz, an NU student with leukemia. Unfortunately, Jonathan succumbed to the disease before he could receive a bone marrow transplant and the students continue to remember him with annual bone marrow drives.

The NU Drive has tested more than 3,000 people since 1991.

Leukemia is a malignant condition in which the overproduction of white blood cells eventually interferes with the function of vital organs, and if uncontrolled, can be fatal.

Leukemia is the second most common cause of death among young people ages 8 to 24, next to accidents.

More than 19,000 people will die from leukemia this year alone.

The Leukemia Research Foundation, now celebrating its 50th anniversary, directs the activities of more than 1,000 volunteers in 17 local chapters, who have raised more than $15 million since the Foundation's inception in 1946.

YOUR EYES

by Charlotte F. Nielsen O.D.

No one can see as well at night as in the daytime. But as we get older these differences increase. A 50 year old driver may require twice as much light to see the same thing at night as a 20 year old.

What you do in the daytime can also affect your night vision. For example, if you spend the day in bright sunshine you are wise to wear sunglasses. Your eyes will have less trouble adjusting to night. But if you're driving, don't wear sunglasses at night. They may cut down on glare from headlights but they also make a lot of things invisible. You can be temporarily blinded by approaching lights and it can take up to several seconds for your eyes to readjust to the dark.

Just as your headlights should be checked regularly for proper aim, so should your eyes be examined regularly. Call for an appointment today.

Immunizations offer a dose of protection, GSH provides clinics, information

Good Shepherd Hospital, Barrington, is celebrating National Immunization Week April 20 to 26 by reinforcing the importance of vaccines in children's lives. Good Shepherd Hospital plays an active role in promoting child immunizations by hosting monthly immunization clinics in cooperation with the Lake County Community Health Partnership.

When certain infectious diseases are contracted, the body produces antibodies that kill the offending microbes and build a natural immunity to future bouts with the condition. Vaccines, on the other hand, artificially create immunity. The shots contain modified microbes that aren't strong enough to cause disease, but still the production of antibodies.

Childhood immunizations are recommended for nine different diseases. The list below identifies each disease.

Good Shepherd Hospital hosts immunizations clinics from 5 to 7 p.m. the first Tuesday of every month. Shots are $6 each.

- Hepatitis B—is a viral disease transmitted through infected blood and bodily fluids. It may cause cirrhosis, liver cancer, liver failure or death.

- Polio—is a potentially fatal disease that begins with a stiff neck and progresses to paralysis that makes walking and breathing difficult.

- Diphtheria, Tetanus and Pertussis—are handled with a combination vaccine. Diphtheria is an infection of the mouth, nose and throat which may cause suffocation or lead to pneumonia, heart failure or paralysis. Tetanus is a rare infection caused by bacteria found in dirt, gravel and rusty metal. It causes muscles spasms and may be fatal if it affects the breathing muscle. Pertussis (whooping cough) clogs the airways with mucus, causing a severe cough which may lead to bronchitis or pneumonia.

- Haemophilus Influenzae

Type B (Hib)—is a bacterial infection that causes the most serious form of spinal meningitis. It may cause brain damage and is potentially fatal.

- Measles, Mumps and Rubella—are also handled with a combination vaccine. Measles is a highly contagious illness that causes a high fever, cough and rash. Mumps causes fever, headache and swollen salivary glands under the jaw. Rubella is characterized by a rash and low-grade fever.

Collegiate alcohol abuse concerns NICASA officials

BILL HETLAND

Special Correspondent

Alcohol's negative impact on youth—particularly college students—is widespread, contends Debi Leer, who directs the youth outpatient treatment program of the Northern Illinois Council on Alcoholism and Substance Abuse (NICASA). Leer also directs the agency's Waukegan-based residential treatment facility, Bridge House.

She said far too many young people who start drinking in high school go on to abuse the drug in college. Leer cites studies reported this month by the federal center for Substance Abuse Prevention (CSAP) that show:

- At both two—and four year institutions, the heaviest drinkers obtain the lowest grades.

- Almost one-third of the students at four year institutions report missing class due to alcohol or other drug use.

- Nearly one-quarter of students report performing poorly on a test or project due to alcohol or other drug use.

- College students who drink the most obtain the lowest grades. One study found that while "A" students averaged 3.6 drinks per week while "D" or "F" students average 10.6.

Leer said a national survey of college students shows that at least once a year the following consequences resulted from drinking or drug use:

- 63 percent had a hangover.
- 49.9 percent became nauseated or vomited.

- 39.3 percent regretted their actions.
- 36 percent drove while intoxicated.
- 33.2 percent got into an argument or fight.

- 28 percent experienced memory loss.

Leer said NICASA counselors are treating an increasing number of youth who start to use alcohol and other drugs at a young age.

"Within the past 10 months, we have provided more services for youth who are 12 and 13 years old. So, NICASA's youth program has adapted to the needs of these younger clients," Leer said.

"Also, we are seeing more youth who are the second or third generation of substance abusers."

Leer said April, which is Alcohol Awareness Month, is an especially appropriate time to discuss alcohol's impact on youth.

Laurel Dahl, NICASA's prevention administrator, said her staff works with several area school districts on programs aimed at preventing grade school, middle school and high school students from developing long term problems associated with the abuse of alcohol and other drugs.

"We're trying so hard to prevent negative

ANTIOCH PUBLIC LIBRARY
757 N. Main Street
Antioch, IL 60002

consequences that hurt our students and jeopardize their futures," Leer said. "When we talk to them, we tell us they are looking for Antioch, IL 60002."

"It's imperative that parents, schools and communities provide consistent messages. We need to be unified in our efforts if we want to have a positive impact, and we need to reach our youth at an early age."

Dahl said one national study comes to the alarming conclusion that about 159,000 of today's freshmen will drop out of college next year due to alcohol and other drug-related causes. Approximately 300,000 of today's students will eventually die of these causes, she said.

For information about NICASA's youth treatment services, phone Debi Leer at 662-4124. For information about the agency's prevention services, phone Laurel Dahl at 546-6450.

'Coming out' promotes lifestyle awareness

'You don't have to live a secret' Gays stage first County Pride Week

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor in Chief

For Chad Parsons, 20, of Round Lake Heights, telling his mother the truth about his sexuality has lifted a deep burden from his conscious.

"Now, I'm very relaxed and have a much more positive image about myself," said Parsons, who told his story as part of a program entitled "Coming Out Stories" at the College of Lake County, Monday night.

The program was the first in a week-long series of events sponsored by The Spectrum Club, a College of Lake County student organization of gays, lesbians, bisexuals and their friends, to promote education about and awareness of Lake County's gay, lesbian and bisexual population.

"Basically, I told them since high school I kind of knew," said Parsons. "My parents had suspected there was something 'wrong' with me. My mother had already found out because she found something in my room that indicated it. They were disappointed but not surprised."

Parsons said his mother was disappointed because the image of him with a wife and family may never come to fruition.

The second person Parsons told was his best friend, whom he said was shocked but has "remained one of his strongest supporters."

"The main message we are trying to send to the public through this week of awareness is that there are people like us in society," Parsons said. For the non-gay community, Parsons said the message is "that we have similar interests and that there are many gay people active in society today."

"There are so many people in Lake County in our situation," Parsons said. "This is a very conservative county and it is difficult for people to 'come out' here. See 'COMING OUT' page C2

Chad Parsons, of Round Lake Heights, shares how he originally told friends and family that he is bisexual. Parsons met with about 40 others at a meeting sponsored by the College of Lake County's Spectrum Club for Gays, Lesbians and Bisexuals. Joining Parsons on stage are fellow CLC students from left: Bonnie of Grayslake; Eddie of Grayslake and Kristen Floress of Long Grove. Bonnie and Eddie declined to give their last names. The event offered those in attendance an opportunity to share their coming out stories.— Photo by Lynn Gunnarson Dahlstrom

Preservation conference will explore how to protect history

Is there anything left to save in Lake County? The Byron Colby Barn at Prairie Crossing will be the site for a conference on Historic Preservation in Lake County on Saturday, April 26.

The conference will explore ways to protect the human and natural history that contributes to the character and quality of life here in Lake County.

Can development and preservation work side by side? This conference will help assess preservation efforts that work in conjunction with rapid development, and explore ways to incorporate preservation into the land use planning process.

A variety of different speakers are on the conference agenda. Lake County Board member Pam Newton will offer an official perspective on the importance of good planning. Attendees will also hear from Forest Preserve District President Robert Buhai, and Lake County Board Member Al Westerman, who is an expert on the effects of human settlement on the natural landscape of Lake County. Phillip Bus and Mark VanKerkoff from Kane County's Development Dept.

will share insights into strategies that have worked to integrate development and preservation in Kane County. Grayslake's Mayor Pat Carey, and Libertyville's Main Street Director, Dan Timm, will address Historic preservation and the successful redevelopment of downtown districts.

The conference is from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. The cost of the conference is only $15 per person and includes lunch. Lunchtime entertainment will be provided by fiddler Lyn Chirps. The Byron Colby Barn is located at the main entrance to Prairie Crossing, at the traffic light on Route 45 one half mile south of Route 120 in Grayslake. The Century old barn was saved from demolition and re erected at Prairie Crossing to serve as a community center and site for special events. Space is limited. For information or to make reservations call Ellen Ewing at 548-5400 or Melinda Willen at 223-6933.

If we don't act now to save our historic places the problem will just disappear—and we'll lost a vital part of our Lake County heritage.

'Coming Out'

club currently has 20 active members. This is the first time an organization has brought awareness to the gay community in Lake County.

Other events hosted by the club this week include: the AIDS Awareness Club and the Activities Program Board sponsored "Workout for Hope," a low impact aerobic workout to raise funds and awareness for AIDS and related cancer research, April 15.

An open forum on homosexuality and bisexuality was scheduled for April 16. A panel of eight lesbians, gays, bisexuals and straight supporters were on hand to answer questions about homosexuality and bisexuality in 1997. A staff member from the Lake County Health Dept. answered statistical and health-related questions. The program is free.

Other events for the remainder of the week are: culture night, scheduled from 7 to 9:30 p.m. April 18 where attendees can learn more about homosexual and bisexual culture during a brief presentation on gays, lesbians and bisexuals in the arts. It will be followed by a movie entitled "The Incredible True Adventures of Two Girls in Love," about two women who fall in love. It is rated PG 13 for language and subject matter. The program is free and refreshments will be available for purchase.

For more information on these events, contact the CLC Spectrum Information Line at 223-6601, ext. 5715.

Body found near Wadsworth

NEWPORT TOWNSHIP—A gruesome discovery along Dilley's Road April 9, was very upsetting to the couple that happened along the body of 31-year-old Kim Garland as they were taking a morning walk. Garland's body was discovered around 9:30 a.m. wrapped in plastic on the side of the road. According to a resident of the neighborhood, the police talked with all the neighbors, but no one appeared to have seen or heard anything. The actual body location was approximately a city block away from three homes in the area about one-tenth of a mile south of Kelly Road.

Sergeant Tom Braze of the Lake County Sheriff's Department said they are investigating the case and interviewing many friends and acquaintances of Garland to try and discern where she was the night she was strangled.

Garland was a resident of Waukegan and according to Braze had past arrests for prostitution. She was last placed alive in the area of 10th Street on the border of Waukegan and North Chicago between 8 and 11 p.m. on Tuesday, April 8.

Anyone with information on the victim should contact the Sheriff's office at the 24 hour dispatch 549-5200 or the Criminal Investigation Division at 360-5850. To remain anonymous or to be eligible for a cash reward with information, contact CrimeStoppers at 662-2222.—by ELIZABETH EAKEN

Residents divided on options

VERNON HILLS—Although an Evaluation Committee has recommended a $55 million expansion package that would include an upgraded Butler Lake facility in Libertyville and a second four-year campus built in Vernon Hills near the former Nike missile base, residents still appear divided on whether to have two four-year schools, a "mega" campus at Butler Lake or still possibly building an entire new "mega" campus on 80 acres of property in the Libertyville Township open space district near Butterfield and Golf roads.

During a second public forum held Tuesday night in Vernon Hills, approximately 150 residents from Libertyville, Vernon Hills and Mundelein again shared their concerns and preferences for expansion for the board to evaluate.—by KEVIN HANRAHAN

Poet receives Pulitzer

LIBERTYVILLE—A town known for its rich history, strong traditions and interesting people, Libertyville can now add a Pulitzer Prize winning poet to its impressive chronicle.

Lisel Mueller, 73, of Libertyville has been graced with the prestigious Pulitzer Prize for her work in poetry.

The Pulitzer Prize Committee awarded her for her most recent collection of poems titled, "Alive Together: New and Selected Poems."—by KEVIN HANRAHAN

State sewer funding unlikely

ANTIOCH TOWNSHIP—State funding for a possible sewer project in unincorporated township areas is remote, according to state officials.

Roger Vollbracht, project manager for Illinois Environmental Protection Agency said there is no more state grants available from his agency for new projects.

He noted only one or two grant projects come through the IEPA each year and they have to get the approval of the state legislature. These are usually projects where there is a significant hardship on residents.

He mentioned the Department of Commerce had $380,000 in 1996, but very few communities were able to tap that grant source. He stressed many communities have been trying for many years to receive grants from this source and have failed.—by ALEC JUNG

Residents fighting crime

MUNDELEIN—Diamond Lake residents are joining forces with members of the Mundelein police and public works department to take back the streets. "We are going to send a message that crime won't be tolerated," said Mundelein Police Chief Ray Rose.

The efforts will start with a neighborhood clean-up day, Saturday, April 19 from 9 a.m. to noon.

Transplant patients recover

DEER PARK—Several days after Billy Young, 15, received his third kidney transplant, he was bouncing around Children's Memorial Hospital in Chicago and entertaining everyone as if nothing happened.

That was the account of Dr. Casimir Firlit, head of the hospital's division of urology, who performed the April 7 procedure, replacing Billy's one degenerating kidney with a healthy one from his sister, Kelly Young.

Both were released from the hospital April 11, five days after the six hour operation.

The outlook for both youths is very positive. Firlit believes Billy has a 95 percent chance of having a normal healthy life with the kidney he received.

"It is really indefinite," Firlit said of Billy's prognosis. "That is really the best prognosis you could have."

His sister Kelly, an 18-year-old senior at Lake Zurich High School, will feel pain from the surgery area which will gradually decrease over the next month, Firlit said.

"Kelly's prognosis is really superb," he said. "She can live a normal life."—by SPENCER SCHEIN

Dist. 118 asks for $13 M

WAUCONDA—Voters in Wauconda Unit District 118 will be faced with a $13 million building bond referendum when they go to the polls in November.

School board members will vote next month to place the referendum on the Nov. 4 ballot, seeking approval in order to build additions at each district school building.

Board members were able to save approximately $1.25 million by combining two proposed bond referendums into one package, which will provide savings in construction set-up costs, in inflation costs and in interest from having one bond issue, district authorities said.

"We want to win the first time," said Dr. John F. Barbini, superintendent. If the referendum is approved, the building would take three years to complete.

"We are running out of classrooms right now," said Gary Thompson, school board president, "so we need it."

"I really feel this is the best plan," said Randy Welton, a school board member who worked on a successful referendum committee several years ago to build Cotton Creek School in Island Lake. "I feel the public will be able to run with it and support it."—by SPENCER SCHEIN

Corner bursting with activity

LAKE VILLA—Burger King has joined McDonalds and Condell in wanting to construct a facility at the intersection of Route 83 and Grand Avenue.

Burger King officials have a signed an agreement with the Lake Villa Plaza, according to Ed Kidera, plaza owner. Kidera said the possibility of a Burger King coming into the plaza has spurred interest of other businesses.

"People have called me cold and said 'When Burger King is in, I want space,'" Kidera said.

Kidera said he also wants to go ahead with plans to construct an additional 20,000 square feet of retail space which has sat vacant for many years.

Kidera added he feels Lake Villa has "hit critical mass" which brought the interest of high volume businesses such as McDonalds and Burger King.

The franchise owner owns most of the Burger Kings in Northern Illinois including the one in Grayslake. Company officials are seeking to construct a 4,110 square foot facility on the north end of the property on the Route 83 side.

A public hearing on the issue will be May 1, 7:30 p.m. at Lake Villa Village Hall.—by ALEC JUNG

Village celebrates Earth Day

HAWTHORN WOODS—The Village of Hawthorn Woods is holding its first Earth Day celebration in combination with a March for Parks walk in the village's Community Park, at the corners of Quentin and Old McHenry roads, Sunday, April 20, from 1-4 p.m.

The March for Parks is a national walk event sponsored by the National Parks and Conservation Association, held in conjunction with Earth Day to promote awareness and raise funds for America's parks.

Other activities include a Ronald McDonald magic show, a wildlife show with Master Falconer Roger Tucker presenting an adventurous wild birds of prey show, music, face painting, games, a special Earth Day Storytime, and a tree planting.

The celebration is sponsored by the Hawthorn Woods Department of Parks and recreation, which is co-sponsoring the march with the Hawthorn Woods Women's Club and the Elia Area YMCA.—by SPENCER SCHEIN

Leaf eating moth found

OLD MILL CREEK—The village of Old Mill Creek has been warned of a Gypsy Moth outbreak by the Illinois Department of Agriculture. The affected area encompasses 5-acres along Hunt Club Road. The Gypsy Moth defoliates trees and eventually kills them if left untreated. It's main target is hardwoods.

Previous outbreaks in the area were located along Route 41 north of the weigh station and at Van Zelst Landscaping a few years back. The outbreak may be treated by spraying the affected area via helicopter with pesticide. The village has been asked to contribute more than $900 in funding for the treatment. They approved the procedure pending notification of outside funding to pay for the application and approval of their attorney.—by ELIZABETH EAKEN

Library may seek referendum

MUNDELEIN—As the Fremont Area Library celebrates National Library Week this week, they are also looking to the future by preparing to discuss a likely building referendum to be placed on the spring 1998 ballot.

"We will be meeting with architects, May 17 to help us decided what our needs are for a new building," said Kathleen Callahan, community relations coordinator. "We know eventually we will need a second building."

The next major move for the library district is going on-line, which they planned to do by June 1.

Water-sewer input given

GURNEE—Residents of the Hickory Haven subdivision in Gurnee will be able to cast their ballots as to whether or not they wish to pay for the service. The survey from the Village of Gurnee is expected to take place within 30 days.

Trustees set a benchmark of 40 percent interest to determine whether or not the project will be in place. Residents will have 24 months to hook onto the service.

"Last time the survey was done, the big issue was cost," resident Mike Kunkle said.

Residents learned at a Monday budget session the average frontage cost will be $6,963. A connection fee of $700, a $50 inspection fee; a $270 water meter; $500 to disconnect a well and $2,500 for connection to the water main is included in the $10,983 estimate per home.

The estimate for watermain extension in the area north of Great America is $262,380. The village agrees to pay $60,360 as public benefit cost with $202,020 paid for by homeowners.—by STEVE PETERSON

Board selection becomes formal

Since it is embedded in non-partisanship, the process of selecting board of education candidates is imprecise, hit or miss at best. Selection usually falls between "encouragement" from a present or retiring board member, "tapping" from a high ranking administrator seeking friends in an influential place or the "calling" of personal ego or misplaced vanity.

The latter influence was lamented recently by Don Smith, an outspoken retired federal employee who resigned unexpectedly from the Mundelein High School board of education after 18 years of service because he was "out of tune." Basically, Smith quit out of exasperation with fellow board members he regarded as more interested in educational fluff than making the hard decisions necessary to insure that young people are properly prepared to become productive adults.

Anyone who shares our concern that selection of school board candidates ought not to be left to chance or school district politics should be interested in a formal caucus system being organized by Barrington citizens. As we understand it, a caucus drawing upon a broad base of interest and experience will interview aspiring school board members. Then they will select candidates for support. In theory there is nothing preventing candidates not supported by the caucus from running independently.

Sponsored by a philanthropic group, the Barrington caucus is being guided by Dr. Charles Thomas, a college professor and a former superintendent of North Chicago elementary school district. The caucus process is designed to ferret out special interest candidates and bring forth the best qualified. Caucus members themselves are getting educated in leadership, policymaking and school management. The Barrington school board caucus will have 49 members and 20 alternates.

Besides spotlighting quality, the caucus system will extend public debate on candidates and educational issues from May 20, when candidate selections will be announced, to election day in November when voters make the final decision. A five-month debate should provide an excellent opportunity for electors to find out what the issues are and decide who they want to solve school problems.

Archbishop's visit awaited eagerly

Catholics and non-Catholics alike are excited about the arrival of a new leader of the Chicago archdiocese, which includes Lake County, home for more than 2.3 million Roman Catholics and the nation's largest diocese.

Archbishop Francis E. George, a native Chicagoan who adroitly professed allegiance to both the Cubs and White Sox when interviewed by reporters following his low-key arrival, will be officially installed May 7 as the diocese's eighth archbishop. The 60-year-old cleric's off-hand reference to baseball was an indication that he will be firmly planted in reality while administering to the spiritual needs of a diverse and demanding flock.

By his early pronouncements and the reputation that preceded him, George has indicated a high intellect, an uncommon pastoral presence and a keen sense for the problems confronting him. It was no accident that the new archbishop comes from an area where he carved a high profile record for understanding and caring for problems of a significant and suffering constituency, Hispanics. That side of the new archbishop bodes well for both Catholics and the community at large.

Despite the enormous demands of a man of his position, we hope the new prelate will find time to pay a call soon on Lake County where visits by his predecessors always have been hailed and revered. We join in extending a hand a welcome and look forward to getting to know him.

Socking the rich: a story of fraud

Never before have so few provided so much fodder at the expense of so many for the benefit of a handful of the politically entrenched.

That explains the intellectual fraud perpetrated by Democrats in their long standing strategy of "sock it to the rich" to gain the favor and votes of the masses. The strategy continues to work, despite revelations like a Wall Street Journal report that high-income returns represented less than one percent of all tax returns filed in 1992 and 1993.

The same report explained that high income returns are those of persons showing income of $200,000 or more. Now for a stupid question: If the rich pay only such a small amount of taxes, where does all the money to operate the federal government come from?

Baptism underscores world togetherness

BILL SCHROEDER

A high ranking clergyman in the United Methodist Church returned for a short stay to Lake County where he began his career in the ministry three decades ago as an associate pastor.

Although he preached two sermons at the United Methodist Church of Libertyville, the Rev. Dr. Roger Ireson, general secretary of the Board of Higher Education and Ministry of the United Methodist Church, came to officiate at the baptism of his grand-niece, Julia Beth Metaxa, a bond we share with the globe-trotting cleric whose first church post was in Zion.

Dr. Ireson drew on his experiences as general secretary to report that support provided by local congregations is making possible one of the church's great educational efforts, African University in Zimbabwe, which he visits regularly.

A forceful speaker, Dr. Ireson said the school is the realization of a 100-year-old vision of a Methodist bishop, and graphic evidence of the global vine drawing Christians together. "This morning, little Julia becomes part of that vine," he stated proudly.

RECOGNITION—Waukegan fittingly added to its recognition of favorite sons the name of Phil Austin, a magician with water colors of Lake Michigan scenes of the Waukegan lakefront and Door County. An Austin original is both renowned and treasured. Austin's talent was brought to focus nearly 50 years ago by the late restaurateur Mathon Krytsis, who insisted that Phil stage an annual showing at his popular eatery, an event that has continued to the present. Austin and Mathon became famous together.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

'Plan' not 'ban'

Editor:

I understand Bob Depke is spearheading a group called the "Friends of Unified Development." FUD members include United Homes of Rolling Meadows, Concord Development of Palatine, Kimball Hill Inc. of Rolling Meadows, Lakewood Homes of Hoffman Estates, Sundance Homes of Schaumburg, Cambridge Homes of Libertyville and Zale Companies of Buffalo Grove.

The FUD group hopes to build a data base of the far north suburb subcontractors, service providers and material suppliers by asking them to forward lists of names and addresses of its employees who live in Lake County.

With this information they plan to help inform families that "a rational approach to development and building is what puts bread on the table for all of our families" and warns them about the "organized environmental movement that literally seeks to ban development by whatever means are available."

Once again, Mr. Depke, the organized environmental movement said "PLAN" not "BAN" development.

Unplanned growth takes bread off everyone's table. Whether you live in a village, city or unincorporated area in Lake County, it's the taxpayer who pays for school referendums, road improvements, sewer bonds and stormwater disasters. What goes around comes around. Eventually, unplanned growth becomes everyone's problem.

Victim of pettiness

Editor:

On election day, the good people of Round Lake Beach inevitably re-elected as mayor the "evil of two lessers."

Unfortunately, while so doing, they turned out of office, Sharon Fyfe, the best village clerk that Round Lake Beach ever had. Ms. Fyfe always conducted her office in a highly professional and non-partisan manner with a friendly, dedicated and loyal staff.

To have lost such a talented, caring, and decent public servant because of petty partisan politics is truly a shame. Sharon Fyfe represents all that is good in a village that may be destined for greatness. She will be missed at city hall.

How to lose customers

Editor:

Before a shovel has broken ground for the almost assured approval of the Auto Nations grand entrance in Gurnee, they have lost over 700 potential customers to buy their used cars.

That is the amount of people who signed a petition to register their disapproval of the oncoming conglomerate business enterprise. The homeowners fear the value of their property will deteriorate, and are threatened by having a used auto dealer as their neighbor.

The Gurnee Planning Commission has given approval for Auto Nation to move forward. Now the village trustees have only to sign on the dotted line.

We have just been through an election. The people of Gurnee See LETTERS page C5

-PARTY LINES

Hudson gets last laugh in narrow twp. win

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers' column of political opinions is prepared from staff reports.

Last laugh—Backers of Zion Supervisor Truman Hudson are having the last laugh on State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion) who consigned

Geo-Karis

Hudson to retirement before the April 1 election. Geo-Karis saw Cheryl Neal Ditzig as the winner. Hudson, running for his fifth term, nipped Ditzig by six votes. The former Warren High band master expects to survive a discovery count without difficulty.

Hudson chuckles about Geo-Karis' support for Ditzig. "Geo doesn't think I'm Republican enough just because I have the notion that Democrats own homes, pay taxes and are entitled to public service," noted Hudson.

And speaking of Geo- The unstoppable veteran lawmaker was one of only six Americans nationwide to be honored at the Sixth Annual Hellenic American Achievement Awards, April 5 in St. Louis. The foundation honors Greek Americans for achievements in community service. Geo-Karis was cited for her leadership, integrity and vision to serve as a beacon for women.

Off n' running—U.S. Sen. Carol Moseley-Braun, the troubled Illinois senior senator, has kicked off her re-election campaign for 1998 with a series of radio commercials. Or haven't you noticed?

Next stop—Defeated Lake Zurich Trustee Karen Demos-Rosenthal won't bow out of public service. She's going to turn her energies and talents toward MADD (Mothers Against Drunk Drivers). Rosenthal's brother, a Milwaukee County deputy sheriff, was fatally injured in a car crash with a drunk driver.

Down, not out—Lake Zurich Mayor Debbie Vasels, defeated for re-election, isn't expected to stay idle for long. Vasels enjoys the give and take of public office and in the past has expressed interest in other levels of government. Let's see: township, Lake County Board, state representative. Only the latter will be up for election in Vasel's area next year. Hmmm.

Not anti—County Board Rep. Al Westerman (R-Wadsworth) offers an interesting observation in light of the building industry's stepped up political action activity.

"I don't know anyone on the County Board who is anti-development, but we do have concerns about things like incompatible zoning, flooding and traffic. We want to make sure developments are done right and won't cause more problems," Westerman remarked.

Westerman

Void replaced—When the Route 53 Corridor Planning Council reconvenes in May, it will have a new leader. Kildeer President Barbara L. Schwietert has agreed to become the council's chairman, with Grayslake Mayor Pat Carey serving as vice-chairman.

"With (former Libertyville Mayor) Jo Ann Eckmann not involved anymore, she has left a big void in Lake County," Schwietert said. "It will take three people to replace her."

Schwietert was also appointed to serve on the Lake County Municipal League board of directors.

Tax payer's hero—Rep. Phil Crane has once again been named "a taxpayer's hero" by the Council for Citizens Against Government Waste. The announcement came, coincidentally, on tax day, April 15. Crane received a waste-cutting rating of 86 percent during the second session of the 104th Congress. The ratings are based on 35 key waste votes in the House.

Link on-line—State Sen. Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills) is reaching out to constituents through a homepage on the world wide web.

"With a district of nearly 200,000 people it's important that citizens have every available method of contacting me with their concerns," Link said. E-mail can be sent to Senator @Link30.org, and the home page can be accessed at <http://www.link30.org>.

First success—First-term State Rep. Mark Beaubien (R-Wauconda) has advanced his first bills as primary sponsor to the Senate.

Beaubien

House Bill 1366 cracks down on career criminals and gang activity. The measure bars a judge from awarding probation or conditional discharge to a felon who is already on probation, conditional discharge of mandatory supervised release, then commits another felony offense.

House Bill 1217 prohibits the introduction of testimony in any court proceeding related to alcohol or substance abuse intervention.

Political signs—Some Mundelein politicians are wondering when the signs on Tops restaurant are likely to be removed. The signs which blast Mayor Marilyn Sindles and her administrator for not issuing the restaurant a liquor license, have been deemed political signs and thus should have been removed within 10 days of the election.

Time's up but the signs are still there. Look for the village to try to impose the ordinance.

My contribution to the art of lying art

I am so proud. I feel I helped discover, or at least uncover, the World Champion Liar.

Here's the story:

Once a year I write about a favorite club, the nearby Burlington (Wis.) Liars. Last year one of the newspapers that printed my article was the Cleveland Plain Dealer, circulation 500,000, and one of the readers was John Bertschler, a psychologist in the Cleveland suburb of Lakewood.

It was the first time Bertschler had heard of the Liars Club and he decided to enter its annual contest. On New Year's Eve, as it has done since 1929, the club announced the winner. It was Bertschler with this little taradiddle:

"There is a boy at my son's school who is the smallest kid for his age I have ever seen. If he ever is reported missing, his picture will start showing up on cartoons of half and half."

Bertschler's finely sliced baloney beat out hundreds of other lies, including such honorable mention hokum as this from Patrick Braun of Whitewater, Wis.: "I work for a life insurance company that pays claims so fast that last week a tenant fell off the 17th floor of our building and the claims department on the fourth floor handed him his check as he plunged past the window."

The president of the Liars Club, retired Burlington educator John Soeth, is a tad concerned about the ebbing popularity of the annual contest. "We used to get thousands of entries, now we get hundreds," he said.

Years ago the traditional New Year's Eve press release announcing the best lies seemed to appear in almost every newspaper, but lately fewer editors have been printing it despite the fact our daily papers are filled with dreadful news and a little more levity, however cornball, might be a welcome change of pace.

I wondered if maybe Bertschler had heard of the club through my story in the Cleveland paper.

"Yes, that's where I got the idea to enter," he told me on the telephone. "And when they announced I had won there was a big spread in the paper. The people in Burlington had alerted the media. I must have been on a half-dozen radio shows, three TV shows and even got a call from David Letterman's people.

"On one Cleveland radio program the guy got me talking about my new business, North Coast Conflict Solutions. We specialize in divorce mediation. Well, two weeks later the radio station called and asked, 'How would you like your own talk show?' The Liars Club lark has literally changed my life in a way I never would have conceived."

"But my girlfriend thinks the lie I told is pretty stupid. Now I want to be the first person ever to win two years in a row. I have a lie ready to go, but I'm keeping it a secret."

THE PFARR CORNER

To compete with Bertschler, simply send $1 and a lie to the Liars Club, Burlington, Wis., 53105. You at least will get a membership card confirming you are a full-fledged liar.

It's a treasured American tradition (we reward our best leg-pullers with plush jobs in the nation's capital) and it's a talent that often comes in handy. As Bergen Evans said, "Lying is an indispensable part of making life tolerable." And it was Mark Twain who observed, "A lie can travel halfway around the world while the truth is putting on its shoes."

If he repeats as champion, Bertschler might take his place alongside the all-time great liars in the Burlington club's history. One of those was Verne Osborne of Centralia, Wash., who won in 1934 with this whopper:

"While riding my mule, hunting jackrabbits one day, the mule took off after one that fled across a mesa. Closely pressed, the jackrabbit plunged headlong over a 10,000-foot cliff and the mule, trained to follow rabbits, plunged off after it."

"I thought my hour had come, but then I remembered how well-trained the mule was, so I sat quietly in the saddle until we were about 10 feet from the ground and then hollered, 'Whoa!' The mule stopped in his tracks and I stepped off unhurt."

voted, in favor of the "Peoples Choice." Residents have elected officials, giving them the power of attorney, the guardianship of the village. We put our trust in them to carry forth the plans that are for the best interests of the public.

Now that 700 people plus myself are disappointed. Our hopes have been shattered. The Planning Commission has failed to render a "No vote." It makes them look bad. As a result, they lost much confidence and support.

New resident in town

Editor:

Add up a big growth project (AutoNations), with some slick political maneuvering and a pandering (Mayor Welton appointed) Planning Commission, and you come up with the residents being pushed aside for the mighty "dollar."

This project, AutoNations, has seen the largest public outcry for representation from our village trustees. We, the residents, were shoved aside by the Plan Commission, and now it is up to our village trustees. Two village trustees, Chamberlain and Rocheleau have come out in opposition. Ratfelders, Amaden, Bullock are definite yes votes. O'Brien is a most likely yes, but no matter how it comes out, even 3 to 3, Mayor Welton has never seen a huge project he does not like. Mayor Welton, who ran unopposed, will cast the tie breaking vote to bring this monster to town.

So, though we will all come out again to oppose this beast (AutoNations), we should all know in advance, that the red carpet has already been rolled out, the deals cut, and we have a new resident in town: AutoNations.

Job not full time

Editor:

The defeat of Ralph Swank as township supervisor in Libertyville Township is indicative of the kind of job Swank did as supervisor. He was strictly a "part time" or "occasional" person though he did draw his $51,000 paycheck regularly but spent his time as the full time head of his own insurance business in Waukegan. Swank proved that the job is only a part time job and should only draw a part time salary.

Now that Mr. Graham has been elected, perhaps since he promises to spend full time at the job, that he can get rid of all of the staff in the township hall. There just isn't that much work for more than one person and I question that there is more work than for a part time person.

Perhaps Graham will also institute a substantially reduced salary for the job, as the job isn't worth a full time salary. Swank proved that he could do the job on Saturday mornings. Perhaps Graham should accept a part time salary for this very part time job.

In any case, welcome back Mr. Graham. We didn't always agree with you but you did make a lot of sense with a lot of your proposals.

What's the law to do?

I live in Round Lake and I'm really disappointed with a Lake County cop who has the right to go into these bars and drink and drive. It's his job to stop people and he's no different than anyone else. Because he's wearing a badge, he thinks it's okay. You tell me, what does the law do there?

Just a courtesy

To the person who left a message called "Dine and dash." About your comment about the police officers getting free food, this is a courtesy that fast food restaurants extend to the officers for protecting the community.

Where's impact fees?

I'm a resident of Fox River Valley Gardens. I'm calling in regard to Wauconda School District 118. In their recent newsletter in March, they said the new subdivision planned would significantly impact enrollment. They're also asking for another referendum for a new school. I'd like to know what they do with the impact fees from the subdivisions? Why are they always so short of money? Why are they always crying money? Why don't they ever tell us what they do with the impact fees, and why isn't some of it put away for new schools?

Help has arrived

I live in Lake Villa Township and would like to congratulate Jim Jorgensen on his victory. We're hoping he'll help the residents of Fox Lake Hills, who have been abused by Jim Semmerling in the past. We're looking to solve the Chesney flooding problem, and we're looking to fixing our Chesney Park which is home to a lot of flooding, and remove the red snowfence that Semmerling put up so we can improve and repair the damage done. We hope Jim Jorgensen will provide us a refreshing change and a work with the community. Good luck!

Love ya, Dad

I'm from Round Lake and I want to thank my Dad, Curt. He just had bypass surgery and we want to say we love him and we wouldn't know what to do without him. He's so beautiful to us. Thanks, Dad, we love you!

Remove signs

I'm calling from Antioch Township. I'm very upset with a candidate for Township

Trustee, Ardeen Harris. She took the liberty of stapling her campaign signs to private property trees. These signs remain. I hope she will be out and remove the signs and every staple she put into the trees.

Do 'proud' things

There's a lot of talk about self-esteem these days. It seems pretty basic to me. If you want to be proud of yourself, you've got to do things you can be proud of. Feelings follow actions. I think if a lot of people thought about that, they might be better people in general, and nicer to their neighbors than they are.

Be friendly

After reading the Lipservice column for about a year now, it's pretty obvious there's a lot of trouble going on between neighbors. Building a sense of community is not that hard, it just takes ordinary friendliness on the part of people. I don't see a lot of that going on in this world. The ones that are really going to suffer are the kids.

New name

I read your paper all the time and I've got a great new name for Lipservice. It's called "Love thy neighbor."

You forgot money

To "Ignorant opinion" in the April 4 issue of Lipservice. I can tell you the fourth premise in your statement is money. There are people in this town who don't have the money to supply their kids with uniforms. I see nothing wrong with the clothes she has and I will not vote for uniforms.

More info next time

This is in response to Sue Hanson, and her statement that she wished more people would have voted. Maybe the reason is because the newcomers to Lindenhurst were not aware of the people who were running, the issues, the candidates and what they stood for. We did not get anything in our mailboxes, or delivered to our doors. If it was buried in a paper somewhere, some of us work 12 hours a day and spend weekends working on the house and don't have time to read the paper. Maybe a little more press before election time would help.

Get involved

Without the participation of the people (you), we cannot have a democracy—only enslavement. I live on the east side of the village, a neighborhood full of Generation Xers. They find all kinds of time to run around the streets, gossiping with their neighbors, but they don't do any community volunteering, don't vote, or get involved. They think everyone else will do it for them.

In agreement

I'm calling about the comments on April 4, "Publish report." I agree with the person. The police departments in the area are more apt to catch a DUI or catch you in a speed trap rather than prevent or conclude any crimes.

Mudslinging over

Now that the local elections are over and the mud slinging has ceased, I totally agree with "Needs credibility." I also think that Lakeland Newspapers is doing a disservice to their readership. Printing comments from individuals that don't have the guts to attach their name to lies and disinformation should not be printed. I hope the editor will rethink his policy concerning Lipservice. My name is Ken Meyer and I'm proud to be from Round Lake Beach.

Enough guns

You bozos in the NRA just don't get it. There's already enough guns in this country. How much is enough? Before you clowns start throwing the Second Amendment at us, read your Constitution. It's for a well-regulated militia. We were at war, after all, fighting for our very lives as a country. Not for you clowns to go around with automatic weapons and kill everything in sight!

Too bad

It's really too bad more residents of Fox Lake did not attend one of the candidate nights before the recent election.

Keep kids safe

I enjoyed reading in the April 4 issue of the Grayslake Times, where a bill being sponsored by Sen. Peterson that will involve the state of Illinois will study school walk routes at the petition of a parent. Estates of Eastlake and Avon on the Prairie have their children crossing Route 83 and we all know how busy that is. Dr. Hochschild, wake up, this area is growing rapidly. It's very important that the board members and Hochschild make sure our children are safe.

Find out more

This is in reference to "Get law changed." Your doctor should visit the Hepatitis B Foundation's web site. While the AIDS virus has been shown to live for only 24 hours in dried blood, Hepatitis B can survive for at least a week in dried blood. If you're in close contact with Hepatitis B carriers, get tattoos, ear or body piercing with unsterilized needles, travel to high risk countries, you are at high risk. There's many risks besides sharing needles and sexual contact. For more information, you should really do more than just contact your doctor.

Apology due

In response to the person who was disappointed in the Easter blessing at St. Peter's, it is you who need a lesson in being a Christian and a Catholic. How dare you criticize a priest in such a crude manner! I suggest you get your facts straight about the custom. It's not a ritual of the church. Were you really there? I was—it was a very nice service. Sprinkling was omitted because the holy water is disposed of after the Holy Thursday liturgy and not blessed again until the Easter vigil. I suggest you get your facts straight. You owe the St. Peter's priest an apology. Or are you really a Christian?

Raise tuition

To the Fox Lake District 114 school board, the message of no tax increase is clear. There is no need to repeat a similar referendum next election. Fixed income and childless property owners are shouldering enough of a tax burden. Solution: Raise school tuition higher to compensate.

No reason

I cannot find a single sensible reason for the annexation of the acreage off Wilmot Rd. north of 173. It's being rezoned to become mining property, which is the most destructive, and also returns the least amount of tax revenue to the village. It's a bad deal. There must be some other reason for approving it. The unrestricted village codes give the mining corporation carte blanche to create terrible conditions for our neighbors of Spring Grove.

Promises, promises

Do Grayslake residents want a pool and community center? Don't you think we should have two referendums? One asking if we want one, and another asking who will pay for it. We cannot depend on promises from the garbage people to pay for or maintain these expensive buildings. Building administrator Michael Ellis said he couldn't use the payoff money from the garbage dump to lower our taxes because the same people can't guarantee it. I want to keep my taxes down so I can live here when I retire in a few years. And further, we can't depend on an amateur, inaccurate survey in which people approve of a pool and community center that has a "free candy" gimmicky motive behind it. Put it to the people on a referendum and we'll accept the results.

First class act

Sure glad to see Jerry Pharr's new column. It's brightened up Lakeland's pages. His friendly and witty columns are also very informative; you can tell he loves researching. It's a first class act. Keep him here in Lake County! By the way, this is not his mother calling.

Blah, blah

I'm calling as a rebuttal to "Don't criticize." I'm the individual who said you should be held responsible for the state revoking your driving privileges. Your rebuttal is blabber. How can doctors and hospitals be the cause of your license revocation. It sounds to me like you easily point your finger and blame everyone but yourself. I stand by my original comments to be responsible for your actions and gracefully serve the judgment the law has handed you. And stop pointing your finger—unless you want to point it at yourself.

Go north

Why doesn't the Taubman group drop their plans to build a mall on Route 12 and Hawthorn Woods and move it north a few miles to the border of Wauconda and Volo? There's plenty of room at Route 120 and Route 60, and us poor folks out here could use the tax revenue. The rich guys in Hawthorn and Barrington don't want the mall and don't need the dough. They can afford the gas for their Beemers to travel north and shop at the ritzy mall.

In today's market customers may not always be right

The television set he returned was nearly three years old. The customer who brought it back demanded a new TV. "If you don't give me a new set, I'm going to stand in front of your store everyday and drive your customers away," he said. What would you do if you owned the appliance store?

The dress was less than a week old when the customer returned it. The clerk pointed out the perspiration stains under the arms and the spot on the front. "I can't take this back because you've worn it," she said. The customer grew angry and shouted, "I did not wear it, those stains were on the dress when I bought it. That's why I'm returning it." What should the clerk do?

The car's odometer showed 7,000 miles when the owner returned it to the dealership for the fourth time. "It still isn't running right," he stated angrily. "If you don't get it right this time, I'm calling the manufacturer and I'll have my attorney invoke the lemon law. I want my money back." On previous visits, the car had checked out fine. The sales manager and three different mechanics had all driven the car and could find no fault in its performance.

The owner of the dealership is certain that nothing is wrong with the car. She also knows the car's owner lost his job just weeks after buying the car and may be struggling financially. What should she do?

The new breed of customer

Minding Your Own Business

Don Taylor

Today's customers are more demanding and less willing to accept mediocre service. They are value driven and much less tolerant of inconvenience. Customers are getting harder to please and many businesses are feeling the sting of unhappy customers.

I call this new breed of customer the "Four-A Customer." They want anything they want, anytime they want, anyway they want, anywhere they want it. As competition for customer loyalty increases, this new breed of customer is even more likely to get it their way.

This brings us back to the original question: "Is the customer always right?" The answer of course is a resounding "No!" However, our customers—even when dead wrong—are still the only reason our businesses exist. Without enough customers, we quickly become devoid of profit and have to close our doors.

So how do you handle unreasonable customer requests like the true-life examples mentioned earlier in the column? Do you give away the farm? Do you risk litigation? Do you chase away customers with a cat-o'-nine-tails?

First Chicago opens banking center in Dominick's

The First National Bank of Chicago has opened its newest supermarket branch in the Dominick's Finer Food store at 290 Hawthorn Village Commons, Vernon Hills.

"The Vernon Hills branch will offer our customers the convenience of express banking. We expect it to become very important to this community," said Martha Stawarski, who has been tapped to head the new branch.

In celebration of the opening, First Chicago will make several special offers to area customers through May 16.

Those investing in either 6- or 12-month certificates of deposit will receive a one percent bonus on the rate being paid with and additional account being opened. The annual fee will be waived for the first year for those who open a new line of credit.

Additionally, qualified applicants for installment loans will receive up to .5 percent off the rate charged on the loan. For opening any checking account, customers will receive 50 free Skyline checks.

The First Chicago Dominick's branch is an express banking center, allowing customers to apply for loans, open checking and saving accounts, and make deposits and withdrawals by ATM.

Customers at the supermarket branch also have the opportunity to make appointments with mortgage bankers and investment representatives with First Chicago NBD Investment Service, Inc.

"We are constantly looking for ways to enhance our customer relationships by improving the level of service that we offer. One of these ways is by offering customers the ability to bank where they shop," Stawarski said.

The branch is approximately 100 square feet, and has a staff of three. Its hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday; 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday and 11

GE to remain in Barrington

The Village of Barrington and GE Capital Auto Financial Services have announced that GE Capital will retain its corporate offices in the community. GE Capital will move from its existing office at 600 Hart Road to the Bourns, Inc. Building, which has been occupied by Recon Optical, located at 540 W. Northwest Highway.

GE Capital considered several locations as potential sites to expand its office space, both within and out of Barrington. When receiving the news of their decision, Ron Hamelberg, village president stated, "I am very pleased that a major American company and employer like GE Capital has chosen to remain in the Village of Barrington, to meet its increased office space needs."

This move is evidence of the further expansion of the commercial properties which Barrington needs in order to maintain the proper residential/commercial mix necessary for our long-term financial health as a community. It is also a sign that Barrington is a good place in which to live and work."

The existing Bourns, Inc. facility will be renovated both internally and externally. A two story addition will be constructed creating a total of 253,000 square feet of office space. The renovation of the building will begin immediately.

Business retention is a major component of the village's economic development initiatives. According to Peggy Blanchard, director of economic development, "this is a good example of where the private sector and village established an early dialogue as to their expansion needs and desire to remain in the village." Barrington was selected as the international headquarters of GE Capital.

The Bourns, Inc. Building will provide GE Capital with the necessary space for continued growth of its business in the village.

GE Capital Auto Financial Services, which employs about 700 people at its Barrington facility is a leading provider of auto financial products and services in 19 countries around the world.

Recon Optical, a subsidiary of Bourns, will maintain a presence in the village utilizing the building to the rear of the property, as its world wide headquarters.

GE Capital's team for the project includes OWP&P Architects, Inc., Building Architect; Gordon Wigodner Chin & Associates, Ltd., Interior Architect; and Turner Construction company, construction manager.

Northern Illinois Gas reminds homeowners to call JULIE before digging

In planning spring projects, Northern Illinois Gas reminds residents to add a call to JULIE on the "To Do" list. JULIE is Joint Utility Locating Information for Excavators, a state-wide one-call system to notify Northern Illinois Gas and other participating utilities of your digging or excavating plans. Whether building an addition to a home, putting in a fence or landscaping, just call 1-800-892-0123 no more than two weeks, but at least 48 hours, before beginning to dig (not including weekends and holidays.)

Northern Illinois Gas will come out to mark the underground facilities using yellow stakes, flags or paint. Other utilities will use different colors to mark other facilities. Once all the underground facilities are marked on the property, the safest places to dig will be apparent or to reevaluate the project if any facilities are in the path. When calling, be prepared to tell the JULIE operator the following information:

- The county, city or township and the section number where the digging will be done. (This information can be found on the property tax bill.)
- The address and description of the excavation project
- The date and time work will begin
- Name, telephone number and address

A little digging in the wrong place could mean a safety hazard for you and a service interruption for the neighborhood.

• Decide if a customer is really worth keeping. Some customers are abusers. Some are time wasters. Some require very careful handling. Others are high maintenance, but do generate sales and profits for you. The key factor is: Can you serve this customer and still make a profit? If not, you need to invite them tactfully to do business elsewhere.

First Chicago sponsors Chicagoland small business expo

The First National Bank of Chicago will co-sponsor the 1997 Chicagoland Small Business Expo with Crain's Small Business, presented by the Chicagoland Chamber of Commerce and the U.S. Small Business Administration on May 1 and 2 at the Navy Pier Festival Hall in Chicago.

"The Small Business Expo provides a great opportunity for business owners to network and gain valuable information," said John Timmer, senior vice president in charge of small business lending for First Chicago. "As a leading small business bank, First Chicago is proud to support this important event."

Cambridge Bank celebrates first anniversary

Last year, Cambridge Bank, located at 1120 S. Old Rand Rd. in Lake Zurich, opened their doors as the area's newest community bank. Since opening on April 19, 1996, the bank is proud to announce that growth in both deposits and loans have exceeded projections!

Celebration of the bank's anniversary is being observed throughout the month of April with a special Certificate of Deposit and a treasure chest drawing for members of the Cambridge Cash Crew, the bank's popular children's banking club. "We want to show our customers how much we appreciate their business. Our success over this past year indicates that people want to work with a local bank," said Mike Carlino, bank president.

Since opening, the bank has been doing business out of an interim location. However, a new facility is currently under construction directly across the street on Old Rand Road.

Directors and officers of the bank broke ground for the three-story building last month, with completion expected in early fall. The new facility will feature a community room in the lower level for area groups to use, the main floor for banking business and a third floor to house the executive offices.

For further information about banking products, the children's banking program or bank by mail, call 726-2265.

Take time to meet investment rep before making first transaction

Is your investment representative interested in you and your financial goals? Or do you sometimes get the feeling he's more interested in selling you a commissioned product that may or may not fit into your plans?

According to Registered Representative magazine, most people agree with the latter. In fact, the 1997 Securities Industry Association retail management conference uncovered some startling attitudes about securities representatives and customer relations. Two were particularly disconcerting.

In spite of the fact that numerous services are offered to investors free of charge, many consider the remaining transactions to be too costly and commission-driven. In addition, many investors view brokers as stock pickers who are uninterested in the customer's total financial picture.

This is unfortunate and unnecessary. You can help avoid a disappointing experience by selecting your investment representative as carefully as you would a physician or attorney. Making the right choice can mean the beginning of a long and profitable relationship.

Today, most professionals specialize. The same is true of investment professionals. There are hundreds of areas of investments, and most are complex. This means it is almost impossible for a broker to master more than a few. For example, a complete financial planner may not have either the time or the expertise to be a top stock picker. Conversely, a broker with a reputation for trading stock may not be as well-versed in long-term financial-planning strategies.

How do you decide who is best for you? Ask for a personal interview. It's a must. If this hasn't been suggested by your representative, chances are you are already dealing with the wrong person.

A personal interview allows you and your representative to get acquainted. It's a time when you can learn about the products and services offered and the investment firm the broker represents. Ask questions — lots of them. Will the firm hold your securities? Are they insured? What kind of reporting can you expect? Above all, determine if you feel comfortable with the representative. If you're not happy with the rapport, chances are you won't be happy with the service.

The concerned representative should use this time to learn as much as possible about you and your long-term objectives. Both parties should agree on investment risk and be honest about expectations. The more information you share, the more personal your service will be. For example, an inventory of your current investments, retirement plans and savings will help the broker know where you are now and what it will take to meet your future objectives. Omitting information could result in an incomplete financial plan that doesn't serve your needs.

A good match between investor and investment representative occurs when the customer's immediate goals and financial interests fit the broker's style of investing. The best way to determine whether such a match exists is through the personal interview. So take the time to meet with prospective investment representatives before that first transaction, and get the service you deserve.

Editor's note: For questions call, Noah Seidenberg, Edward Jones investment representative, Grayslake, 223-1908.

Griefnotes

How can I prevent difficulties from grief?

Many who confront grief for the first time are surprised at the intensity of their feelings. Grief is most often associated with the death of a loved one but it can also result from divorce, loss of bodily function, moving or from child growing up and leaving home. Because grief is poorly understood, those who have not experienced it personally can be poor helpers. By learning about grief ahead of time we can more capably assist friends in their time of need and can more readily understand the intensity of feelings when death affects our families. Take time to read and inquire about grief and learn ways to assist those in need of support.

MAUREEN with love

Our lives were saddened on that awful day
And a piece of our hearts has been taken away
She was a wonderful mother to Kelly and Meredith
And so that is who are thoughts and prayers are with...
When teaching you sensed her ultimate pleasure
And every one of her students was her own special treasure...

That friendship Maureen brought us was her special gift
And we will think of her often when we need that extra lift...

Not only a special sister but also a special friend
To whom her heart and home she did so often lend
MAUREEN THE DAUGHTER...Daughters truly have a special place

With Catherine and Maureen that indeed was the case
AND MOST OF ALL MAUREEN THE MOTHER

To Kelly and Meredith she is one of a kind
They have beautiful memories to keep in their mind
Remember her laughter, remember her smile
Remember especially her graceful style

Remember she'd already begun to prepare you for life
Not knowing you would encounter this terrible strife
Remember in hard times she will be watching over you
Guiding and helping you know what's the right thing to do

Remember above all she was like no other
And both of you will remember she was the most wonderful MOTHER...

We truly miss you,
Love the Atwoods

Landmark Designs INC.

CUSHMAN

The Cushman is a two-story home designed to take full advantage of a compact city lot. By working with angles, the designer has created an attractive side yard that allows full utilization of an area that usually lies idle. Creatively landscaped or outfitted with pots of herbs and flowers, this alcove becomes a park-like outdoor getaway.

While the two-car garage sits squarely on the lot, far enough back from the street to meet set-back requirements, the living room is placed at an angle and is much closer to the street. When sunny skies and warm air beckon, access to the out-of-doors is easy. A wide deck wraps around the side and back of the home. It is accessible through sliding glass doors in the dining room and kitchen. This feature is doubly attractive to families who enjoy eating outside.

In the center of the spacious kitchen is a work island/eating bar combination which adds to the already generous counter space. The kitchen has both a broom closet and a pantry. A large utility room is adjacent to the eating nook, which allows for dealing with the laundry while working at other tasks in the kitchen.

Bright and open to the second floor, the entryway seems larger than it really is. Plants will flourish on top of the entry closet, bathed in light from a window at the top of the stairs. Upstairs, there is a den, master suite and second bedroom. Like the room below, the master suite is set at an angle. It has a large walk-in closet, wet bar and a private deck.

For a study kit of the CUSHMAN (404-16LP60), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, 33127 Saginaw Rd. E., Cottage Grove, OR 97424 (Be sure to specify plan name & number.) For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark, or call 1-800-562-1151.

APRIL 22, 1997

BLUE BOW CAMPAIGN

The BLUE BOW Campaign started in the spring of 1989 in Norfolk, Virginia. Bonnie Finney's grandson was the tragic victim of child abuse so she tied a bow on her car antenna as a symbol to her community of her personal battle against child abuse. In her own words:

"The blue bow serves as a constant reminder...to fight for protection of our children. We must protect our most precious gifts of all...children. Please wear a blue bow...put one on your car...give one to your friends...tell them what it means...you may save a child's life!"

The Spirit of the BLUE BOW grew to nationwide observance during April, Child Abuse Prevention Month. Can one person make a difference? Bonnie Finney did and you can too! Central Baptist Children's Home and the Illinois Center for Youth Advocacy are holding a BLUE BOW DAY on April 26th. Volunteers will pass out BLUE BOWS and informational flyers from 10:00am - 4:00pm. The goal is to raise awareness of child abuse and provide momentum for a community wide effort to prevent it.

How To Survive The Job Search

By Nancy Sakol

Dear Search,

What is the rule on companies and severance pay? I left a company after 3-1/2 years due to a lay off, and I was not offered any severance pay. I was told by a friend that I had it coming to me and that I should contact the company to find out why I have not received it yet. Please give me your ideas on how I should approach the situation.

T.S.-Lakemoor

Dear T.S.,

Your friend is feeding you improper information. Be advised that severance pay is not a "given." Companies are not required to give an employee severance pay upon departure from a company. In fact, companies are not required to give out severance pay for any reason whatsoever. Severance pay is a gift of sorts that often means "hope this softens the blow." Your friend may be confusing severance pay with unemployment compensation which you may be eligible for. Contact your nearest Illinois Department of Employment Security Office, which for you would probably be the Waukegan office (although you may contact any Illinois facility), and they will have you fill out the forms necessary for which you may apply for the compensation while you are actively seeking future employment. You should have no trouble collecting as long as the reason for your termination is uncontested. The Illinois Department of Employment Security has launched a staunch effort to crack down on unemployment fraud. Therefore, be sure that you are actively seeking employment with an emphasis on actively. Be prepared when you go to apply at your nearest office to supply the representative with your employer's name, address, dates of employment, paycheck stubs if you have them, and a good attitude. You will then be required to meet with a job service counselor who will monitor your activity and offer recommendations as to possible job listings that may be available. You will be required to check in periodically.

Dear Search,

I recently spent a fortune to have a resume typed by a service that omitted my year that I graduated college. They told me the reason that they did it, but could you please tell me what you believe would be a reason for not including that on a resume? I am proud of my accomplishment and feel it should be included. R.I.I.-Lake Forest

Dear R.I.I.,

It doesn't sound as though anyone is trying to shirk your accomplishment. As I understand it, your degree is included in your resume, however, just the date of graduation was left out. The reason I can guess would be that a potential employer could possibly calculate your age, which could help or hurt depending on the position. If you feel more comfortable having it in...ask the service to do so, but it is not necessarily needed.
